RADICALS ATTACK KRUPP PLANT

Government Troops Repulse Spartacans; Battle Reported Still in Progress

Zurich, Jan. 17.—The death of Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg resulted in a renewal of fighting in the suburbs of Berlin and elsewhere, according to information received here this afternoon.

Spartacans attacked the Krupp plant at Essen, threatening to destroy the place, but were repulsed by government troops.

A battle was said to be in progress in one suburb of Berlin.

By H. J. GREENWALL,
Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—The death of Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg is probably the tragic end of the Spartacan group. Others leaders may try a revival of activities, but Berlin is occupied by 40,000 troops and there are field guns at all the intersections of the main streets. Every bridge is held by troops with machine guns.

The postoffice, where the dispatch was filed, is filled with machine guns mounted on tables behind which the clerks were working.

Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, Leaders of Spartacans, Are Slain

Berlin, Jan. 16, via London, Jan. 17.—Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, two of the chief leaders of the Spartacans and both active in spreading Bolshevik propaganda in Germany, have been slain, it was officially announced today.

Liebknecht and Mme. Luxemburg were arrested at No. 43 Mannheimerstrasse in Wilmersdorf, a suburb, at 9:30 o'clock at night. They were brought into Berlin to staff headquarters which are located in a hotel. There their identity was established and they were ordered to Moabit prison temporarily. News of the arrests spread and a great crowd collected, the people forcing their way into the hotel.

Liebknecht was rushed out through a side door and was warned he would be shot if he tried to escape. He was put into a motor car. The great crowd impeded the departure of the motor and one spectator dealt the Spartacan a blow on the head which killed profusely.

The machine finally got under way.

Don't Coddle Heroes With Ice Cream, Says Ruckman

Don't coddle the boys with ice cream and cake when they return home.

Give them a solid welcome, something they can remember.

Protect them morally and mentally.

Look out for their material welfare.

Build up their monuments.

So said Brigadier-General John W. Ruckman, acting commanding officer of the Northeastern Department, in his address today before the Federated Women's Club, No. 585 Boylston street.

120,000 IN PLEA FOR 6 MONTHS' WAR BONUS

One hundred and twenty thousand people—an army behind an army—have signed the petition of the Honored American "Soldiers' Friend" for the quick discharge, with six months' pay, of all men in the service of the United States army, navy and marine corps.

This is the largest number that ever signed any petition in the history of Massachusetts. It exceeds by 35,000 signatures the next largest petition. The second in size, up to this time the first, was also a petition of the American for public control of the Boston Elevated in response to the demand of the people, and was signed by 85,000 persons.

The onward rush into the hundred thousands of this patriotic proposal is still going on unchecked, be-

MOTHER DROWNS WITH BOY SHE TRIED TO SAVE

Danvers, Jan. 17.—Mother and child were drowned today when Mrs. Edward M. Robinson tried to rescue her three-year-old son, Richard, from a pond behind their house on Burroughs street. The child had been playing with a toy rabbit in the back yard, when it slid from his hands onto the thin ice. In attempting to recover his toy, the child broke through.

Lloyd M. Stanley, a boy neighbor, notified the mother, who rushed to the rescue. In the meantime word of the accident reached the Danvers Electric Light Station, and Austin Gould, an employe, hurried to the spot with grappling irons.

With the assistance of neighbors, the two bodies were recovered six to eight feet of water. Drs. Deering, Mahan and Moriarty worked for hours endeavoring to resuscitate the victims. Edward M. Robinson, the father, is a lawyer, with offices in Boston, and was formerly a well known football coach at Brown University.

NEW WAR, WARNS LEWIS

Illinois Senator Points to Danger if Wilson's Plea for Publicity Is Rejected

By International News Service.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Defeat of President Wilson in his first effort to make effective the first principle of his peace program—that calling "merely for publicity"—will reopen the world war, Senator Lewis of Illinois administration whip declared in the Senate this afternoon.

Following a declaration of support from Senator Borah of Idaho and Senator Williams of Mississippi for the President in his effort to compel reconsideration of the decision of the peace conference to enforce the "Lea" rule, eSnator Lewis called attention to "an aspect more serious than that mentioned by either Senator."

"If there is any force in Europe at the conference table that shall overrule President Wilson in his first effort to enforce his first principle, I, standing in my place, give warning now that that force will reopen the conflict," Lewis declared.

"This force will precipitate a new world war and it will be because every little nation that aspires to have its rights ascertained and declared will believe that this first move is made with the object of defeating its aspirations."

Senator Johnson of California recommended "some affirmative action by the Senate." If the issue of publicity at the peace conference is not settled satisfactorily to the United States within the next two or three days.

New Fire Commissioner Talks of Work, Play, Life and Shop

By HAZEL CANNING.

John R. Murphy, good American, genial Democrat, urbane gentleman, and—incidentally—newly named fire commissioner, sat and talked of politics, and success, and imagination—Irish imagination—and theatres and the movies, and—before he was through the fire situation in the good city of Boston—though the newly named commissioner was in the presence of what he fondly calls "my better half," in whose gracious presence he generally prefers to speak of other subjects than shop, too little interesting to the ladies.

It was while the newly-named commissioner was riding to Hoston today with smiling Mrs. Murphy and Miss Eleanor, "my youngest daughter," that the conversation took place. But before that had come impromptu receptions, in Brookline, when high and low, with sincerity in their voices, had congratulated not my Murphy, but the city of Boston, on the selection of the new commissioner.

So, at last, it came to biography. What was the gentleman proudest of?

TRUCE IS EXTENDED AGAIN

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Jan. 17.—The armistice has been extended. Articles prolonging the truce were signed at Treves on Thursday afternoon by State Secretary Mathias Erzberger, representing Germany, said a dispatch from that city today.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Marshal Foch demanded $12,500,000,000 from Germany at the armistice negotiations in Treves, State Secretary Erzberger stated to the German government, according to a report in circulation here today.

Of this sum, $7,500,000,000 was for indemnity as a result of damage done by the Germans to northern France and Belgium and $5,000,000,000 was for other damages.

As a guarantee for payment the allies demanded control of German railways and forests, it was stated.

BOY BURNED IN STATE HOUSE EXPLOSION

Roswell Stevens, sixteen, of No. 9 Albenarle street, Back Bay, was badly burned and other State House employes were alarmed when the boy today caused a deafening explosion by dropping a five-gallon jar of ether on the floor of the laboratory of the Food and Drug Division of the Massachusetts Department of Health.

When the ether exploded the fumes, catching fire from two Bunsen burners, ignited the boy's clothing and burned it from his body before assistance could reach him.

The flames were extinguished by employes of the laboratory, and after young Stevens had been given first aid treatment he was taken to the Relief Hospital.

Room 53a in the State House, where the explosion took place, was wrecked, being damaged to the extent of $1,000.

Following as it did on the heels of the commercial street molasses tank disaster, the ether explosion caused something approaching a panic in the State House. The sharp report, closely followed by clouds of acrid smoke which poured into the corridors, caused shrieks of fear from women and cries of alarm from men.

The incident occurred shortly after the day's work was started in the laboratory. Young Stevens, who had been employed there about a month, was told to carry the jar of ether across the room. He picked up the container and took a few steps with his burden when his fingers slipped.

The heavy vessel crashed on the floor, there was a sharp report and then the fumes took fire. The flames leaped on the boy's clothing, and before they could reach him he was a mass of fire. The men managed to extinguish the fire, at the cost of severe burns to themselves.

PLEA REFUSED BY MILL OWNERS

Beginning on February 3rd, all the textile workers in the United States will start on an eight-hour day, according to a statement made today by Thomas F. McMahon, international vice-president. This action is in accordance with a resolution passed at the textile workers' convention held in New York last November.

Demand for a 48-hour week, made by the United Textile Workers of America to become effective February 3, has been rejected, it was announced today by President Shove of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

Hundreds of thousands of workers in the mills of New England are affected by this order. The cities especially affected are Lawrence, Lowell, New Bedford, Fall River, Haverhill and the mill cities scattered through Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine.

A prominent labor leader of Lawrence, when asked today what effect this refusal would have on the mill workers of Lawrence, said: "There's no law in this country that will make a man work any longer than he wishes to. The National Association of Cotton Manufacturers can make all the refusals they want but that doesn't alter the situation in any way. Wait until February 3 and you will find that the thousands of mill workers in New England will go into the mills on that day and do their

DEMAND AN OPEN DOOR

Committee of 14 Journalists Appointed to Secure Full Publicity

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Jan. 17.—Premier Clemenceau explained to the Chamber of Deputies that the reason greater means for publicity had not been provided by the peace delegates was that many delicate problems will develop regarding which it would be unwise to say one nation proposed and another opposed.

The Premier cited President Wilson's denial of the alleged threat to withdraw American troops from France as an example of disturbing false news.

"Of course there are going to be arguments," declared the Premier.

"It would not be a conference otherwise. At the preliminary conferences we with the utmost accord so that we can enter the final conference with the allies presenting a solid bloc."

The question of press representation at the conference or a provision for wider channels of official information on debates has been attracting a large share of the envoys' attention during the past three days.

COMMITTEE NAMED.

A committee of fourteen newspaper representatives was formed, with plenary powers to secure the fullest possible publicity on the proceedings of the conference.

The three American members of the American committee are Herbert Bayard Swope of the New York World, Arthur Krock of the Louisville Courier-Journal and John Edwin Nevin of the International News Service.

The American and British journalists find themselves in accord, exmanding fuller representation at the manding fuller representation at the preliminary sessions of the conference. The British suggested that they would be satisfied with one press representative present.

The Americans adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the American press correspondents in Paris that full and free admission to the peace conference and to its preliminary sessions should be granted the press, and, second, that there can be no restriction whatever."

An international journalistic committee met and discussed the situation. In addition to the Americans present, there were Sir George Riddell and George Adams of the London Times, three French newspaper men, three Italians and two representing the press of smaller nations and a representative of Reuters, Ltd.

OPPOSED CLOSED DOORS.

The Americans suggested that ten newspaper representatives be allowed to be present at each sitting of the conference. The American press representatives emphasized to their colleagues that American sentiment has crystallized behind President Wilson's demand for full publicity. The American people, it was pointed out, strongly oppose the conference working behind closed doors.

The British presented their resolution for representation first. Mr. Swope then stated that a protest had already been lodged with President Wilson by the Americans. An American resolution was then read by David Lawrence. The spokesman for the French expressed agreement with the general sentiment but expressed some doubt as to the practicability of having a large number of newspaper men sitting in the conference.

The Temps, in discussing the publicity tangle, points out that the delegates are unable to force an enlightened reading public to accept the results of the conference unless kept informed by more than the dry communiques. This newspaper does not favor newspaper representation at the sittings, but suggests a conference advisor who will keep the correspondents informed of the developments.

100 AT PROTEST MEETING.

More than 100 newspapermen attended a meeting last night which had been called to consider steps to combat the "gag rule." At the same time the way was paved for furnishing suggestions to the commissioners by a joint allied newspaper committee. The British and American newsmen were confident that a way would eventually be found to permit correspondents—perhaps a limited number—to be present at some of the sittings, if not all.

Wilson Invited by Poincare to Serve as Chairman of Sessions

By JUSTIN McGRATH,
Editor of the San Francisco Examiner and Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Jan. 17.—It became known today that President Poincare of France, after formally opening the first plenary peace conference at the Quai D'Orsay tomorrow, will call upon President Wilson to preside.

It is not known whether President Wilson will accept the offer. It is regarded as certain, however, that he will deliver an address which is looked forward to with intense curiosity and speculation.

Praise Hearst Papers for War on Whiskey

Washington, Jan. 17.—The following tribute to the Hearst papers for their fight on whiskey was written today by E. C. Dinwiddie, legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League:

By E. C. DINWIDDIE,
Legislative Superintendent Anti-Saloon League of America.

I am not unmindful of the tremendous body blows which have been administered to whiskey and distilled liquors by the Hearst publications through a long period of years. I am glad to believe that their anti-whiskey fight, whether intentional or not, has resulted in making additional public sentiment against all alcoholic beverages. I indulge the hope that now since the Legislatures of a great majority of the sovereign American States have declared for national prohibition, undoubtedly representing the sentiment of the people of those States, we shall have the influence and co-operation, not only of the Hearst papers, but the metropolitan papers generally in the important work of enforcing the law.

MURPHY, NEW FIRE CHIEF, IS TALKATIVE

"Well, first of all, the gentleman was proud of the way he started life. I got my business education under my brother, James D. Murphy, who was a well-known importer, and under my brother-in-law, John Boyle O'Reilly, I being business manager of the Pilot when he was editor. Thus, very young, the best Irish traditions of sincerity and loyal faith were thrust right before me. I hope that they made an impression."

NEVER MISSES A SHOW.

And the new commissioner smiled at Mrs. Murphy who, full radiantly, smiled back. So the talk went on. And the gentleman showed very soon that, when work was done, he was a philosopher of the joy o' life, an exponent of pleasure. Also it developed that Irish wit and Mr. Murphy are no strangers. To "How do you like to play?" he had the answer ready:

"Baseball, theatre, the movies. We never miss a show, my good wife and I. And at dissimilar—most afternoon you may find Mrs. Murphy and me, after office hours, scandalously shirking our work, in the Summer, and hot chocolate in the Winter. Metropolitan delights we pursue with eagerness in our hearts and we don't care who knows."

But a genial gentleman is serious when serious matters are the subject.

"For, if you ask how about the Boston Fire Department, you will find all modesty as to future plans, but you will find plans, nevertheless, already in definite shape.

MUST REMOVE ABUSES.

"Please remember," the Mr. Murphy who is the cautious lawyer counselled, "I am not commissioner yet. So I now speak only as a private citizen and as a tax payer. As such, let me say that I believe the department is not as efficient as it could be made. The high cost of insurance in Boston is directly due to the situation in the fire department, and the condition of buildings.

"In my private capacity as yet, I say that the tax payers, the fire department, and the insurance people must get together to remove the abuses, to bring down insurance rates, and to make our city safer.

"I believe this can be done. If appointed, I am going to try to do it. And I know both the insurance men and the men of the fire department, and so I am confident it will be done, with good will all around."

Which, later, developed some phases of Commissioner Murphy's career, little known. Here they are: He left a prominent public office for his living, and never has been. He held his first public office at twenty-six. When scarcely out of his twenties he studied law, finishing the course in one year and a half, "because when a man is married, and beyond school age, he must do things quick."

INTENDED TO RETIRE AT 30.

At thirty he intended to retire from public life for good, but the offices sought him out. Mayor Quincy even once appointed him, without his permission or knowledge beforehand.

And, last of all, "the family," meaning mostly Mrs. Murphy, would very much like it if he would get out of public life for good and all.

Reason—Small salaries paid to public officials.

"But still—if he really wishes—well, a man will have his way." That was the substance of the lady's smile.

In politics he is a Democrat; for race he is a descendant of the oldest Irish Celts, a branch of which came over ninety years ago and settled on the slops of Bunker Hill, "where we still live." As for habits, "I neither smoke nor drink, but have not the slightest prejudice against those who do. In fact, often prefer their society to the others."

A genial gentleman smiled goodby. And the wife of the genial gentleman also smiled heartiest approval. It was plain that there is all kindliness in the family of the new commissioner.

TODAY IN CONGRESS

Washington, Jan. 17.—American railroads are on dangerous ground, Judge A. P. Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway Executives, told the Senate Interstate Commerce Commission today. The problem that confronts them is how to interest investors in railroad securities.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The United States Food Administration has been "detrimental both to the consumer and producer," Senator France of Maryland declared today before the Senate Agricultural Committee investigating the activities of the pakers, after Dr. A. P. Adams, federal investigator, had declared that the organization should be continued in peace times.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The probe of German propaganda today centered around efforts of the Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee to reveal the extent to which money agents in this country may have operated to influence legislation in Congress and the acts of men in public life. The part played by George Sylvester Viereck of New York, editor of The Fatherland, and his "confidential connections" in Washington, came in for special attack.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Warnings from the American Federation of Labor officials "that there may be bread lines all over the country before May 1 unless Congress takes action on the labor situation" has led Senator Kenyon of the Committee on Education and Labor to recommend that a conference of governos be called immediately called by the Department of Labor. Secretary of the Interior Lane has recommended that $100,000,000 be appropriated immediately to begin work upon clearing and draining lands for the use of returning soldiers.

TWO GERMAN RED LEADERS ARE SLAIN

the driver taking a roundabout course for protection. Near Nonne Tiergarten the automobile broke down and an officer asked Liebknecht if he felt able to walk to Charlottenburgerstrasse for a cab. When the escort had gone fifty yards Liebknecht broke away, meanwhile stabbing his guard with a knife clasped in his right hand. He refused to halt and several soldiers fired.

Zurich, Jan. 17.—Rosa Luxemburg, the woman leader of the German Spartacans, was shot while a Berlin crowd was clamoring to lynch her, according to information from the German capital today. She was slain in an automobile.

The motor car was en route for the prison and crowds were surging about it attempting to drag the woman from the machine when a man suddenly jumped to the running board and shot her.

Liebknecht was killed on Wednesday night after the armored car in which he was being carried to police headquarters broke down. Liebknecht was asked if he would walk and he said he would. The party had gone a short distance when Liebknecht broke away from his guards. The men fired and a bullet struck Liebknecht between the shoulders. He fell with the blood streaming from his nose, mouth and ears.

The government has ordered an inquiry to ascertain if death could have been averted.

AN ORDERLY PROTEST.

"We feel," said James Hughes, chief spokesman of the Lassrenn Central Labor Union, "that the demands of the United Textile Workers of America should be accorded whole-hearted support. The Central Labor Union is prepared to give it. We do not, however, anticipate any trouble such as marked the strike here in 1912. The walkout, if it is ordered, will be conducted quietly and orderly. No picketing will be done which will bring disgrace on the workers of this city."

There are between 100 and 500 looms idle in the mills of Lawrence. Each man supplied about 50 weavers, and it can be seen that this class of workmen wields a vast influence in the affairs of the textile workers. The walkout of weavers and other workers would cause about 30,000 persons to go into idleness. Many workers are flocking as a result of the great demand for their products during the war, and as a result they are prepared to test their strength with the manufacturers.

SOLDIER REPORTED BLIND TURNS UP WELL

Private Calvin Stanley of the Headquarters Company, 101st Infantry, whose parents were notified some weeks ago that he was blind and had lost both eyes, walked into his home at No. 7 Greenwood street, Malden, today, sound and well. He was wounded in 1918. On the contrary, everything will be peaceful. Lawrence has tired of violent strikes and the sentiment of the labor men is for moderation.

Sometime between now and February 3, the date set for the walkout, a mass meeting of the Lawrence workers will be held to decide on just what steps should be taken. At present the looms there are not in complete accord with their fellow-workers regarding the matter. They believe that the ends sought can be secured through legislation now pending at the State House. They counsel moderation.

8-HOUR DAY IS REFUSED IN N. E. MILLS

eight-hour shift and then quit.'

"The boards of government of the national association formally approves the resolution adopted Jan. 2 by delegates representing the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, the National Association of Wool Manufacturers and the 8th Association of America 'refusing any demands for the establishment of a forty-eight-hour week,'" President Shove announced.

All employees of the American Woolen Company were queried today by a slip of paper inserted in their pay envelopes, asking for an expression of opinion on this subject. The alternatives put up to them is that if they have a forty-eight-hour week their pay is proportionately reduced.

Some of the employes in the plants of the Washington, Wood Worsted, Ayer and Prospect mills are included.

FEAR TROUBLE IN R. I.

Labor leaders in Rhode Island today stated that they look for trouble in the State when the action of the employes goes into effect. In other words, unless the demands are granted, the quitting of work at the end of the day on February 3 will be tantamount to a strike unless the employers have acceded to the demands of the workers.

"I expect trouble in this State on account of the entire political conditions," declared John H. Powers, a prominent labor leader. Rhode Island manufacturers have always combated labor, and have recently organized to fight the textile workers. They are a political machine. Whether they grant the demand for a 48-hour week or not, the men of the union members on and after February 3 will work eight hours and no more."

The concerted action of the textile workers will be in accordance with resolutions passed at the convention held last November in New York. Thomas F. McMahon, international vice-president of the Textile Workers of America, stated that the mill manufacturers in general to grant the demands.

In Lawrence 40,000 operatives will walk out on the mills at the end of eight hours of work on February 3, according to the leaders of that city.

The walkout, labor leaders say, will in no wise compare with the strike of the I. W. W. there in 1912. On the contrary, everything will be peaceful. Lawrence has tired of violent strikes and the sentiment of the labor men is for moderation.

Franklin's Birthday Also Thrift Day; Buy Stamps

By International News Service.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Have you a good portrait of Benjamin Franklin? If not today, the 213th anniversary of his birth, is the day to get one—a beautiful steel engraving—and any member of 165,000 societies throughout the country will be glad to sell you one at a bargain price. The way to get it is to buy a War Savings Stamp. On it is a striking likeness of the great American, whose name always is associated with thrift.

Although the war savings stamps have been on sale since January 1, the United States Treasury decided upon today as the start of a concerted drive on that on Franklin's birthday, his principles of thrift might be driven home to the hundreds of members of the war savings societies.

"All things are cheap to the saving, dear to the wasteful," was one of his "Poor Richard" sayings applicable today as when he wrote it.

"What have we been doing for peace? Our enemies are hard at work. We have done nothing but wait on bended knee. When the time comes we shall see the disastrous effects of our inactivity. Our enemies are preparing a fair and dried peace. When it is ready we shall not be allowed to discuss it, but must accept whatever terms they wish to impose."

EBERT MAKES THREAT TO RESIGN

Exclusive cable by international News Service and the London Daily Express.

Amsterdam, Jan. 17.—Chancellor Ebert of Germany, has threatened to resign, rather than take the responsibility of signing a "peace of might," said a dispatch from Berlin today.

Now that Berlin is quieter the political leaders are growing increasingly uneasy at the idea that, while Berlin was in the throes of anarchy the allies idly looked on and continued their peace work.

The Berlin Zeitung am Mittag and the Dusseldorf Nachrichten and other papers sound this same note:

"What have we been doing for peace? Our enemies are hard at work. We have done nothing but wait on bended knee. When the time comes we shall see the disastrous effects of our inactivity. Our enemies are preparing a fair and dried peace. When it is ready we shall not be allowed to discuss it, but must accept whatever terms they wish to impose."

"DRYS" READY FOR BILLION DOLLAR BATTLE TO BEAT PROHIBITION

SALOON FOES UNDAUNTED BY DISTILLERS' PLANS TO BLOCK AMENDMENT

Washington, Jan. 17.—Leaders of the fight for nation-wide prohibition are undaunted at the prospect of a billion-dollar battle by distilling interests to rob them of the fruits of victory in the adoption of the prohibitory amendment in its ratification by the necessary thirty-six States.

Edwin C. Dinwiddie, legislative representative of the Anti-Saloon League, has pointed out that the distillers are prepared to spend $1,000,000,000 to prevent the operation of the law, have appointed a committee to carry on the fight and have announced through their chief of counsel, Levy Mayer, that twenty-two States have constitutions requiring a referendum vote of citizens to ratify a constitutional amendment and intend to carry the fight into the courts on the ground that this provision of the State constitutions was violated in the ratification of the amendment. In spite of all this, Mr. Dinwiddie is confident that all efforts to sidetrack the operation of the law will be unsuccessful.

RATIFICATION COMPLETE.

Article five of the Constitution says "that an amendment 'shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of this Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States,'" said Dinwiddie. "State constitutional amendments providing for initiative and referendum and similar laws do not control in matters arising under the Constitution of the United States and laws in pursuance thereof, and, therefore, the ratification is complete when the legislature has acted, and does not depend upon any subsequent action by the voters of the States.

"I do not hesitate to believe that the courts will hold that no State law, when either statutory or organic, can change the plain meaning of the Federal Constitution which is the supreme law of the land."

Denial was also made by Dinwiddie of the statement of the State Department officials that the amendment will become effective one year from date of a proclamation by the Secretary of State, announcing that the amendment has been ratified by the required number of States.

Only fourteen of the thirty-six States that have ratified have notified the Secretary of State officially of their action, and it is held in some quarters that delay in such notification will equally delay the date on which the amendment becomes operative.

DATES FROM JANUARY 16.

Under the constitution, however, according to Dinwiddie an amendment becomes valid as part of the constitution when it is ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States, and that, therefore, the prohibition amendment became part of the constitution yesterday when this action was completed, and becomes operative one year from yesterday.

The enforcement of national prohibition will probably rest with the Internal Revenue Bureau of the Treasury Department. The bill to make the amendment operative will also probably be drawn up by the bureau. Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper will face one of the most difficult tasks in the world, should the work of enforcing the new law devolve upon that bureau, it was pointed out. Heavy fines and imprisonment penalties for importation, manufacture by illicent stills or otherwise of alcoholic beverages: transportation, sale, gift or any other disposition of such beverages must be provided and carried out.

"I have not carefully planned the work of administering prohibition and do not know what we shall need," said Commissioner Roper today. "We do not know under what kind of an organization we shall act, the number or character of men we shall need or where they will be needed."

HAVE AGREED ON LAW.

National prohibition and anti-saloon organizations have agreed upon the main provisions of the bone-dry Federal act to be presented to Congress. These provisions, adopted by the national legislative conference which recently met here, include tentatively the following:

1. The appointment of a Federal law enforcement commissioner with sufficient and adequate power and assistance to secure the enforcement of the act.

2. A provision for the abatement of liquor nuisances by injunction.

3. Conferring of power upon the law enforcement commissioner to prescribe rules and regulations, with approval of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, for the manufacture and distribution of wine for sacramental purposes and alcohol for non-prohibited purposes.

4. Conferring of all necessary authority on officers and of adequate penalties for violation of the act.

5. The sale, manufacture, transportation, importation, exportation and possession of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes should be prohibited.

6. All intoxicating liquors illegally possessed, manufactured or sold, and all implements used in the illegal manufacture of such liquors shall be considered contraband.

TO CURB "MEDICINE" TRADE.

7. The phrase "intoxicating liquor" should include distilled, malt, fermented, vineous, alcoholic or any intoxicating liquors.

8. An adequate search and seizure provision, similar to those which have proved effective in the enforcement of prohibitory laws in the States.

9. The sale of alcoholic patent or proprietary medicines which are possible or capable of being used as a beverage should be surrounded by the same safeguards as the sale of alcoholic.

10. Provisions to prevent any scheme, device or subterfuge to evade the provisions of the act.

11. In accordance with the National Prohibition amendment, the several States shall provide legislation in harmony therewith to carry out its provisions.

12. Such other provisions as will destroy every vestige of the beverage liquor traffic throughout the United States and its possessions.

Some Consequences of Nation-Wide Prohibition

Here are a few of the things the constitutional prohibition amendment will do:

Wipe out at a stroke 236 distilleries, 992 breweries and over 300,000 saloons and wholesale liquor houses, forcing their employes to seek other jobs.

Cut off from these persons an annual income totalling more than $70,000,000 in pre-war times.

Cut off from the United States treasury a source of taxation counted upon for an even $1,000,000,000 in the first drafts of the new revenue bill and millions in incomes to the State treasuries.

Remove the liquor question from national, State and city politics for all time and help decrease city, State and Federal expense by decreasing law violations.

Improve public health and increase longevity to the economic value of billions of dollars.

Bring about a rapid decrease in many forms of insanity.

ARREST 'GOLDEN ROOSTER' MEN AT DANCE

The Eastmans Charged With Promoting Costume Ball Without a Permit

Nathaniel and Irving Eastman, Russian artists and proprietors of the Golden Rooster on Carver street, have been arrested.

Following an agitation over the "Bohemian" resort which has lasted more than a week, the two men were taken into custody at a masquerade dance, held at No. 355 Huntington avenue. They were arraigned in court today charged with promoting a gathering where masks and disguises were worn without a permit.

The affair was run by the two Eastmans and was held at the Huntington avenue address because the premises of the Golden Rooster are too small for the purpose.

The arrest was made by Captain Thomas F. Goode and six men from Station 16, who bought tickets for the ball and attended in civilian dress. The arrest took place at the close of festivities, which lasted until the early hours of the morning. Seventy-five of the 350 persons attending, the police allege, were arrayed in masquerade dress. Young girls dressed in tight fitting jockey suits and men who were powdered and painted and arrayed in short skirts were among the dancers.

Habitues of the place on Carver street were today anxiously wondering whether their favorite haunt would remain open or be closed. The police were silent on this point.

The Estmans pleaded not guilty in Roxbury Court today, and their case was continued until January 21 in $800 bail for each, which was furnished. They were unrepresented by counsel.

Sergeant Archibald Campbell of the Back Bay Station was the complainant in court, and charged that on January 15, in No. 355 Huntington avenue, the defendants conducted a masked ball without a license.

KILLS SELF ON TIME SET BY STOP-WATCH

New York, Jan. 17.—The police are trying today to identify a well dressed man of about thirty years who committed suicide in the Grand Central Station, by the time of a stop-watch. Addressing the crowd in the station, the man called out: "Well, folks, I had a good time in this world; no kick coming—good-by." Then he drew a revolver and fired a bullet into his head. A stop-watch set at 3:30, the exact minute he fired, was found in his pocket.

SECRETARY TUMULTY CONFINED TO BED

Washington, Jan. 17. — Joseph Tumulty, secretary to the President, is ill in bed with a heavy cold. He has not been able to appear at the White House offices for several days, and friends have been apprehensive of the grip.

"Mr. Tumulty is suffering from a heavy cold," said Mrs. Tumulty. "The doctor said that his fever had broken, however, and that he would be able to return to work within a few days."

SEEK FOR FOUR MORE BODIES IN RUINS

Death Toll in Molasses Tragedy Now Has Reached Twelve

With the unearthing of the body of an unidentified man clad in working clothes from the ruins of the headhouse at North End Park, the known death toll in the molasses tank tragedy has reached twelve.

That the bodies of at least four more victims of the tragedy on Commercial street are still buried in the debris is the opinion of police and other officials.

Three of the four bodies are those of expressmen. The teams of two of them have been found, buried under tons of debris in the freight sheds of the electric-trolley-freight terminal. The third man is said to have been in the vicinity of the tank at the time of the collapse and neither he nor his team has been seen since. The men are:

Eric Laird, eighteen years old, No. 2 Carey place, Charlestown. Driver for Baxter & Oldfield. Team found in the wreckage in freight shed. Horse dead.

C. Nicolo, thirty-three years old, No. 7 Florence street, South End. Conducted a small express business. No trace of wagon or horse found.

The fourth body being sought is that of ten-year-old Pasquale Iantosca of No. 115 Charter street, North End. The child was said to have been gathering boxwood in the yards of the electric freight terminal at the time of the disaster and it was feared that the body had been swept into the harbor.

Federal, State, city and private investigators are busy seeking to determine what caused the tank to burst.

The cause of the accident is still a mystery.

DISCLAIM LIABILITY.

The State police, according to Walter L. Wedger, the department's expert on explosives and chemicals, have decided that the accident is not for them to investigate. Likewise a disclaimer of all liability in regard to the affair has come from Herbert A. Wilson, building commissioner of the city of Boston.

"There was no fire," said Mr. Wedger. "And the statutes say that unless there is a fire which damages property it not a subject within the jurisdiction of the State police."

Said Mr. Wilson: "The tank was in the classification of a 'receptacle,' and inasmuch as it was not a 'structure' the public building department was powerless in the matter of construction."

Harry F. R. Dolan of Dolan, Morson & Stebbins, who acted as spokesman for the United States Industrial Distilling Company, said that the company "don't know" what caused the accident.

ESTHER SAKALOVE of Malden, who had a narrow escape when the big molasses tank exploded.

QUICK THINKING SAVES GIRL FROM DEATH

Saved from death in the Boston molasses catastrophe by quick thinking and later rescued by the Boston police boat by means of a rope thrown to her, is the experience of Miss Esther Sakalove of No. 546 Eastern avenue, Malden, stenographer in the Boston & Worcester freight office.

"I was just about to rush down the stairway outside my office on the second floor of the building," she said, "when the stairway was swept away. The building was shaking and I expected it would collapse every minute. I knew to jump from the window into the harbor probably meant death.

"Then the shaking ceased. When I looked from the window across the wreckage I could see people kicking in the molasses. Some of them were drawn under. I could see the men in the buildings which had been wrecked crawling out and I could hear the cries of those injured.

"Finally the Boston police boat came near and shot a rope to us through a window and we were lowered to safety. I was not hurt, but my clothing was ruined by the sticky flood."

Big News Alliance of I. N. S. and London Daily Express

New York, Jan. 17.—One of the biggest news alliances perfected in years was consummated today when the International News Service began to receive exclusively the complete service of the London Daily Express, which for a long time has stood out in front of all London newspapers for enterprise and information.

By the terms of a contract entered into with the Express, the International News Service is entitled to exclusive right of re-publication in the United States and Canada of the complete news gathered by the London Daily Express and the London Sunday Express. This includes all telegrams and cables from the correspondents of the Daily Express all over Europe with the single exception of the correspondent of the Express at British headquarters in France.

The London Express is covering Europe as no other London paper does, and special dispatches from its correspondents in Berlin, in Holland and in Russia have supplied practically all the sensations from those countries for months.

As a part of the alliance entered into between the Express and the International News Service the latter organization places at the disposal of the London Express for simultaneous publication all special news received from the correspondents of the International News Service in Europe.

There never has been a more important news alliance made for American publishers than this. It is a well-known fact that the London Daily Express has been consistently "on the inside" in all matters relating to British and continental politics. It has been distinctly "in the know," but it has nevertheless been a perfectly free agent and has not hesitated to print all the news as it developed. The London Express has been quoted more in American newspapers than any other London paper.

By similar arrangement Universal Service will have exclusive rights to the dispatches of the London Express in the morning and Sunday fields.

5,000-Mile Flight, England to India, Accomplished

London, Jan. 17.—The first successful flight from England to India has been accomplished, the Air Minister announced, immediately after word had been received that the giant Handley-Page machine which undertook the epoch-making voyage, was just arriving at its destination. The distance is more than 5,000 miles.

From London to Capetown by airplane, a journey of 5,300 miles, is now being planned. Most of the preliminaries have been worked out and surveyors are now in South Africa locating places at which to erect repair and supply stations, it is said.

From London to Egypt will probably be a joint route for Indian and South African service with a great junction at Cairo.

SOLDIER KILLED, 5 HURT AS AUTO HITS BRIDGE

Harrisburg, Va., Jan. 17.—One soldier was killed and five injured, two of them probably fatally, when the leading truck of an army train plunged into a bridge and over an embankment at the foot of a short pike in a road here.

FAIL IN ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE KAISER

U. S. Officers in Wild Ride at Midnight Across Dutch Border

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE.

London, Jan. 17.—Here is a story that equals the wildest D'Artagnan exploit, with ten American army officers in two automobiles playing the part of Dumas' swashbuckling hero, attempting nothing less than kidnaping the former Kaiser from Amerongen.

The most remarkable feature of the adventure is that the ex-Kaiser gave word that he was willing to be kidnaped if shown a safe conduct to American headquarters and promised he wouldn't be shot en route.

DINNER IS "SATISFYING."

In the small town occupied by Americans the New Year's celebration continued for several days and culminated in a dinner of young officers, all below the grade of captain.

We do not mean to insinuate that the celebration was unduly uproarious. It was just "satisfying." During the dinner, which took place January 4, a six-footer, a lieutenant from a southern state, declared:

"There's only one thing wrong with this man's army. It hasn't got the Kaiser."

A little man with a fighting record from the Argonne forest took up the challenge. He wanted to know "why we don't get the Kaiser and bring him to the American army." He added: "Just to show we've cleaned up the last bit of war garbage."

One thing led to another, and before an hour had passed ten daring men pledged their willingness to risk court-martial for the sake of "pulling the biggest stunt since Noah built the ark."

BLUFF SENTRIES.

It was stock dark when they reached the Dutch border. Sentries demanded papers, but an officer in the leading car, speaking German, indignantly demanded why hindrance was offered to a perfectly legitimate Belgian relief commission. He bluffed the sentries, and both cars whizzed across the boundary.

A run of less than an hour beyond the boundary brought the party to Amerongen village, now asleep, because the hour was 10:30, and then to the castle which is the Kaiser's exile.

KAISER IN BED.

A "flunky" cautiously opened the door. He nearly fainted at the sight of the eight American officers wearing side arms, who demanded an instant audience with "William Hohenzollern." The servant protested that his master was in bed and unable to see anybody.

Meanwhile the Americans heard an excited German voice upstairs trying to get telephone connection with the village and demanding troops to protect the ex-Kaiser from "madmen."

The result of the brief parley was that a fat German wearing a woolen nightgown reaching only to his knees appeared at the head of the stairs and announced he was the ex-Kaiser's secretary. He asked what the visitors wanted.

He was told the American officers had come "to arrest William Hohenzollern."

The secretary promised he would convey the information to his master. The daredevils waited in the gloomy audience chamber, filled with preposterous examples of Dutch sculpture. Five minutes elapsed. Then the secretary, now wearing trousers, but without a shirt, descended, bearing a message from the ex-Kaiser to the effect that William was willing to surrender to the Americans and be taken to American headquarters if he was shown a guarantee of safe conduct, and if they would promise him they would not shoot him en route.

So word was sent back that the visitors were unable to furnish anything but oral guarantees for William's safety, upon the word of American officers.

ASKED WRITTEN GUARANTEES.

Again Herr Hohenzollern sent back a message that he must have written guarantees.

While the parleying was in progress the servant and the secretary had escaped through a rear exit and run to the village. Twenty-five Dutch soldiers on bicycles hastened to the castle and invaded the audience room, demanding why the American officers were violating Holland's neutrality.

Here, then, arose an unexpected complication: imminent internment until peace was signed.

The Americans withdrew into a side room and conferred. They decided it was better not to get the ex-Kaiser than to be interned. So they sent a final message upstairs:

"Tell Bill we'll be back and get him some time, bringing the whole American army, if necessary."

Then the two mystery cars sped toward Belgium and the greatest coup of the war just failed of accomplishment.

"Hell to Rent Now," Says Billy Sunday on "Dry" Victory

The rain of tears is over. The slums will soon be a memory; we will turn our prisons into factories, our jails into storehouses and corncribs; men will walk upright. Now women will smile, children will laugh, Hell will be for rent.

If any State fails to ratify the amendment, the star in the flag that represents it should be draped in mourning.

Uncle Sam's knockout blow that sent the Kaiser and his Junker gang of cut-throats and John Barleycorn and all his cohorts to the mat for the count makes me more proud than ever that I am an American and have lived to see this day.—"Billy" Sunday in statement on "dry" victory at Richmond, Va.

JURY DISAGREES IN LAWSON TAX SUIT

Financier Paid $5,843 to Winchester, but Claimed His Residence as Dreamwold

A jury in the third session of the Superior Court reported today to Judge Fessenden that it had been unable to agree in the suit of Thomas W. Lawson against the inhabitants of Winchester, in which Mr. Lawson sought to recover $5,843.98 paid under protest for taxes assessed upon him for the year 1916.

The assessors of Winchester on April 1, 1916, levied a tax upon Mr. Lawson of $5,520, based on personal property to the value of $300,000. This tax not being paid, the collector of the town of Winchester gave a warrant in July of that year to Deputy Sheriff Beal for service. On that warrant Mr. Lawson was arrested and settled the bill under protest to protect his rights. The amount paid included interest and costs.

Mr. Lawson claimed that in 1916 his legal residence was at Dreamwold in Scituate. The jury considered the case all of Thursday, and was not allowed to separate until Thursday night.

GIRL OF 17 IS VICTIM OF BRUTAL ATTACK IN N. Y.

New York, Jan. 17.—The body of Mary Elizabeth Riddell, aged seventeen, a victim of the attack of a degenerate, was found in a vacant lot near her home in the Glen Morris section.

The circumstances of her death, according to the police, are almost identical with the murder of Mrs. Helen Southland a week ago. Both women were beaten into unconsciousness with a blunt instrument. Both bodies bore evidence of maniacal fury.

MAINE SUSPECT, FREED, AGAIN TAKEN

Frank Murphy's Stories in Conflict, Say State Prosecutors

Portland, Jan. 17.—Frank Murphy, who was released after being questioned about the murder of Mrs. Carolyn Brown at Rockland, has been taken into custody again. He will be grilled further by county and State attorneys who are not satisfied with his conflicting stories.

By PAUL HARRIS DRAKE.

Rockland, Me., Jan. 17.—Acting upon information given by a Boston newspaper man, Pinkerton Detective Daniel T. Green today began an investigation of evidence which is confidently expected to throw the first real light on the murderer of Mrs. Caroline Welt Brown, whose battered body was discovered in a vacant field near Limerock street on the morning of December 31.

According to the theory now under consideration by the authorities, Mrs. Brown met her death at the hand of a childhood sweetheart, who followed her from near the Hotel Rockland up Limerock street and murdered her almost within the dooryard of her own home.

The peculiar circumstances surrounding the murder, coupled with the fact that the crime was perpetrated almost in the direct rays of a neighboring arc light, lead the officials at work on the case to believe that the murderer acted under the influence of liquor and was presumably unconscious of the fact that he was leaving well-defined footprints around and under the body of his victim.

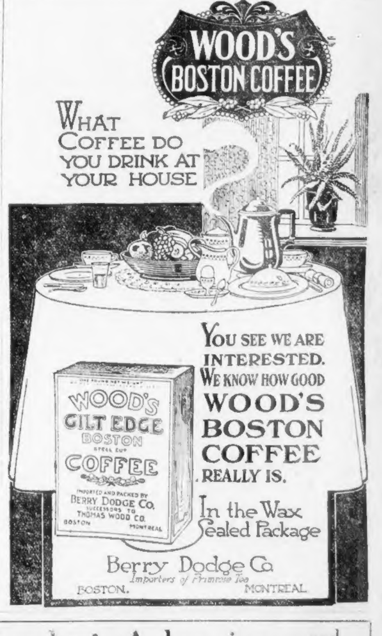

This belief is strengthened by the additional fact that the crime showed evidence of having been committed by a man of perverted tendencies.

All theories of a wealthy suspect appear to have been discarded by the fact that investigators are today hard at work weaving a net work of circumstantial evidence about a former Waldoboro man who is known to have been acquainted with Mrs. Brown since childhood.

The so-called "woodchopper theory" also advanced by a Boston newspaper man, is apparently finding much favor with the State and county investigators. An effort to connect a man known to have recently returned from the logging camps with the murder is being made by the officials, and developments of an important nature are expected.

NUXATED IRON

"Say, Doctor, This Prescription Works Like Magic."

Physician Says Nuxated Iron Quickly Puts Astonishing Strength and Energy Into the Veins of Men and Brings Roses to the Cheeks of Nervous, Run-Down Women.

Ask the first hundred strong, healthy people you meet to what they owe their strength and see how many reply "Nuxated Iron." Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says: "Thousands of people suffer from iron deficiency but do not know what to take. There is nothing like organic iron—Nuxated Iron, to enrich the blood, make beautiful, healthy women, and strong, vigorous iron men. To make absolutely sure that my patients get real organic iron and not some form of the metallic variety, I always prescribe Nuxated Iron in its original packages. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down folks in two weeks' time in many instances."

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sullivan can be obtained from any druggist without a physician's prescription on an absolute manufacturers' guarantee of success or money refunded.

OWNERSHIP FOR ALL TROLLEYS IN STATE

Only Solution of Transit Muddle, Says Public Service Board in Annual Report

Public ownership of all street railways in the State, with a minimum fare of five cents, was urged by the Public Service Commission in its annual report, filed in the Legislature today.

The report declares that cheap and good transportation facilities are absolutely essential, but that it is unlikely these can be secured if present policies and methods are pursued.

The commission suggests that the roads, with the exception of the Elevated and Northeastern, be taken by the municipalities or the State, and that they be controlled by a director-general, to be appointed by the Governor for a term of five years.

In the case of the Elevated provision has already been made for public operation for at least ten years. The other exception, the Massachusetts Northeastern Street Railway Company, is an interstate road.

HIGHER FARES A FAILURE.

Increase in fares are injuring the communities, the commission states, and suggests as the only alternative some form of general taxation by which a portion of the operating expenses may be borne by the public at large.

In coming to the question of methods, the commissioners suggest that a plan for temporary relief might be worked out by offering the companies the alternative of continuing under the present system or of accepting public management and moderate fares, for a comparatively short period of years, coupled with certain annual contributions from the treasuries of the cities and towns in which they operate.

If this plan were adopted, it was said, the public aid could be limited to a maximum of $2 per thousand of assessed valuation, with the proviso that it should not otherwise exceed a sum sufficient to enable a company to meet operating expenses, depreciation requirements and fixed charges and pay dividends of 5 per cent. upon stock representing bona-fide investment.

WOULD REGULATE FARES.

Public management could be provided through a director-general appointed by the Governor and placed in charge of every company accepting the plan, or the Governor might be empowered to appoint all or a majority of the directors of each such company.

Provisions in regard to fares, supervision and jitney competition would be similar to those set forth in the discussion of a possible permanent acquisition of the properties.

The report states that this plan might be criticized, but that such criticism would be unfair, as the public would receive direct compensation for the financial aid granted, in the shape of lower fares than would otherwise prevail.

In regard to taking over the roads, it was suggested that a special tribunal, either the Public Service Commission or a body specially appointed for the purpose, could assess damages after a full investigation.

One of the largest drops in influenza and pneumonia deaths since the epidemic was today reported by Health Commissioner Woodward. The figures were 19 influenza deaths and 2 from pneumonia, as against 20 influenza and 6 pneumonia deaths reported yesterday. There was an increase in new cases, but this was largely due to delayed reporting, according to the commissioner. There were 130 new cases of influenza and 14 pneumonia reported today, as against 109 influenza and 8 pneumonia yesterday.

Miss Mary Dexter Writes a Book of Her Experiences in Hospital Service Abroad

By SARA ORCUTT.

"A Soldiers Service" is a delightful war-time book recently published and a delight to Boston as it is a series of the letters of Miss Mary Dexter, written to her mother, Mrs. Morton Dexter of No. 257 Marlboro street, of her experiences of war work in England and France. Miss Dexter was in England when the war broke out and immediately offered her services which varied from being head nurse at the American Hospital in England to running an ambulance in France.

Miss Dexter has always spent the Winter months in England and has a house in Surrey, which is noted for its beautiful gardens. In 1911 Miss Dexter was presented at the English Court. During that Winter Miss Dexter and her mother had an apartment in London.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or side, headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus becoming unobjectionable.

DILLON SEES IN RUMANIA A REAL PUZZLE

Like Poland's Problem, It Is a Very Complex Matter for Peace Conference

Dr. E. J. Dillon, one of the world's greatest journalists, will report the peace proceedings, upon which the eyes of the world are now centred, for eNe England readers exclusively through the columns of the Boston American. Dr. Dillon will write upon the preliminaries leading up to the main Peace Conference and upon the Versailles sessions.

By DR. E. J. DILLON

Special Cable to the Boston American and Philadelphia Public Ledger.

(Copyright in the United States and Canada by the Philadelphia Ledger Company. Copyright in Europe by London Daily Telegraph.)

Paris, Jan. 17.—Demobilization of a section of the army of British Foreign Office officials, now massed in Paris, constitutes a conspicuous item in the news. The work of reducing this formidable diplomatic force has not yet been actually begun, but the authorities, having inspected the staff and realized their numbers and the difficulty of employing them, have ordered a committee of inquiry to assemble and make recommendations for a substantial reduction in the various departmental missions, and it is anticipated that the services of 50 per cent. may be utilized on the other side of the channel.

On the other hand, the newspapers record, with marked interest, the British government's spontaneous resolve to bestow $125 on each member of the female staff, consisting of lady secretaries, clerks and amanuenses in the service of the Foreign Office in France, for costumes worthy alike of the historic occasion and the aesthetic surroundings.

At the sitting at which the terms of the armistice were fixed, a number of interesting matters were mooted after Marshal Foch's departure. The chief among them had to do with the representation of Rumania at the peace conference, and the allied representatives were confronted with the delicate task of making a decision which might perhaps be liable to misinterpretation by one or the other of the two sections of Rumaniance to both of which it is indebted for support, moral or military, and each of which would naturally wish to see its leader invested with plenipotentiary powers.

RUMANIA WANTS THE BANAT.

The treaty, they argued, had its force when a separate peace was signed at Bucharest and the equity which takes its place prohibits the allotment of a province populated by Slavs, Magyars and others to Rumania, whose determination to Rumanianize them so firm that her official spokesman threatened, if he were opposed by Russia, to resign the premiership and abandon the reins of power to the Germanophile cabinet.

All patriotic Rumanians desire the annexation of the Banat, but probably some think they discern a flaw in the argument on which the case before the conference rests. Observant politicians hold that it is not impossible that the conference, with the view to producing the minimum of dissatisfaction among the various great and small States, may feel unable to allot to the Jugo-Slave every square kilometer of territory they demand in other places where their claims may seem dubious, and will, therefore, not hand over the compact body of Serbs in Banat to Rumania, who is already receiving such a large increase in territory.

I record this view without further comment than this: That the conference would be delighted if the Rumanians, Greeks and Jugo-Slavs could be induced to meet and interchange views among themselves on all territorial questions that interest them alone, and, by dint of give and take, strike up a compromise and in this way demonstrate their maturity for membership in the League of Nations.

STRAIGHTENING OUT FRONTIERS.

For it is surmised that another aspect of the matter may be pressed forward—another aspect which appeals to the Slav delegates, who are Rumania's competitors for the Banat of Temesvar, seeing that the western districts of that country are inhabited mainly by Serbs. The view taken by these is that the agreement to which Russia gave her assent most reluctantly contained a clause stipulating that Rumania should not make a separate peace, the whole treaty, as a binding diplomatic instrument, was formally vitiated by the peace concluded at Bucharest.

Rumania entered into the war in the Autumn of 1916, after two years of hard bargaining, relieved by long intervals of reflection. In these negotiations Premier Bratiano played the part of a patriotic trustee of his country on whose services he set a high and ever higher value, congruously with the fluctuations in the general military situation.

BASKETBALL GAMES INTEREST YEOWOMEN

A great deal of interest has been aroused at the local army headquarters over the coming series of basketball games between the girl clerks on duty at headquarters and the yeowomen stationed at the Little Building.

The first of the series, which will decide the championship of the district, will be played on Wednesday evening, January 29, at the Tyler Street Gymnasium. The game will be followed by dancing.

CARDINAL AT FITZPATRICK FUNERAL

Men Prominent in Church and State Attend Final Service for Boston Merchant

Men prominent in church and State today attended funeral services in the Church of the St. Mary of the Assumption, Brookline, for Thomas Bernard Fitzpatrick of the Brown, Durrell Company, Boston merchant and philanthropist. Cardinal O'Connell delivered the eulogy, and called Mr. Fitzpatrick "a great merchant, a loyal citizen and a good Christian."

The solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Michael T. McManus. Rev. John Sheehan was deacon, Rev. Aloysius Flinn, sub-deacon, and Rev. Bernard O'Kane, master of ceremonies. In the sanctuary were many priests and high clergy, including Rt. Rev. Joseph Anderson, Rev. Walter Browne of Jamaica Plain, Rev. Thomas McManus of St. Lawrence's church, and Rev. William P. McNamara of Cambridge. The church auditorium was filled.

The Cardinal was attended by Monsignor M. J. Splaine and Monsignor James J. Chittick of Hyde Park, and in his eulogy spoke of his personal friendship with Mr. Fitzpatrick.

The active bearers were John H. Corcoran, George J. Martin, Edward A. McLaughlin, James T. Lynch, John H. Burke and Dr. Henry V. McLaughlin. The honorary bearers were Senator-elect David I. Walsh, Judge Patrick D. Keating, Hugh Dillon and William H. Stalker of the New York office of Brown, Durrell Company, H. Staples Potter, Payson Smith, A. C. Rachlesky, Henry V. Cunningham, former Congressman Joseph H. O'Neil, Dr. John G. Shatter, William J. Dooley, Judge Charles De Courcy, James E. Cotter, Michael J. Jordan of the United Irish League of Boston, John T. Mahoney, representing the Catholic Union of Boston, and Bernard C. Kelley of the St. Vincent De Paul Society.

The ushers were Dr. Edward F. Timming, F. J. Doyle, F. C. Donovan, Herbert Drew, Frank Nicholson, and Guy Mellinger.

Fire Commissioner John R. Murphy, President Walter L. Collins of City Council, Francis W. Tully, representing R. H. White & Co., and W. T. A. Fitzgerald were among the prominent public officials noticed in the church.

Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline. Both the Boston and New York offices of Brown, Durrell Company were closed all day out of respect to the memory of Mr. Fitzpatrick.

TRACE SALE OF COAL IN CASE OF CAPT. HARRIS

Army Men Testify at Court-Martial of Brookline Officer at Devens

By THOMAS F. PHELAN.

Camp Devens, Ayer, Jan. 17.—A court-martial today continued taking evidence in the case of Captain Harry J. Harris of Brookline, charged with misappropriating government property for personal use and being irregular in his accounts.

Major George H. Schumaker testified to arresting Captain Harris "I asked my chief fuel clerk if any sales of fuel had been made to officers in the depot brigade," he declared. "He said there was a record of one sale. I requested the slips denoting sales. There was only one slip. These were all the records of sales of coal."

Q.—You couldn't say on your knowledge whether there was a sale of twenty tons of coal or an order for twenty tons or not? A.—No, sir.

Witness stated he had made an investigation of what colonel Byroade and Captain Stark told him, but that it had not been a satisfactory one.

Q.—Then there is a question as to whether the coal was purchased with the knowledge of the fuel division? A.—Yes, there is still a question.

It is alleged by the government that Captain Harris had twenty tons of coal shipped from here to his home, that he had government trucks move his furniture from Shirley to Brookline, that he had enlisted men work on government time at his house, and that he failed to deposit government funds in a bank.

Major Schumaker testified that the whole transaction of trucks being used by Captain Harris in the removal of his furniture from Shirley to Brookline hinges on the fact that he didn't ask for their use. Witness was inclined to believe that the matter was merely a technicality.

Testifying further about the use of trucks the witness stated that he did not think it necessary for Captain Harris to ask for the use of the trucks as they came under his control.

ACCUSE STUDENTS OF BEATING TAXI DRIVER

Lewis P. Brown of Glens Falls, N. Y., and John Dexter of New Bedford, seventeen-year-old students at the Harvard Preparatory School, were arrested by Patrolman James Murphy of Newton on charges of assault with intent to rob Clarence Woodward, a taxi driver. According to Woodward the two students, accompanied by two girls, hired his machine in Boston and he took them to a roadhouse in Marlboro. On the return trip the girls left the machine at Newton Centre. Here, he says, one of the boys struck him on the head with a revolver and both students endeavored to grapple with him. Woodward broke away and telephoned the police.

FORBID GIRL OF 18 TO WED MAN OF 80

Alberta Suitor Goes Back to to Tell Sons of Failure

New Bedford, Jan. 17.—His brag that he "would show his sons how to get a wife" having come to naught when the parents of eighteen-year-old Diana Gagnier prevented her marriage to eighty-year-old M. Timothee Bedard of Alberta, Canada, the latter has returned to his home in the Canadian Northwest.

Bedard inserted a matrimonial advertisement in a New Bedford paper and it was answered by Diana.

Bedard called at the Gagnier home, told of the natural fascinations of his homeland, bragged of his sons, gave picturesque descriptions of the happy times and general life in the Great Northwest. He told his tale so well that the entire Gagnier family was held fascinated, and, with visions in sight, monsieur set Monday as the happy wedding day.

A night's sleep, however, changed the minds of the elder Gagniers, and when morning came they refused absolutely to have little Diana "Ma Mere" to two healthy men old enough to court her, with a reasonable chance of success.

So with bowed head and humbled pride Bedard returned to Alberta.

Says He Will Shoot Children Unless Quincy Aids Him

Declaring that he would shoot his children unless the city would support them, John Hietala, of No. 6 Forest avenue, Quincy, walked into the office of the Overseer of the Poor of that city and demanded that he either be provided with money to return to Finland, or be furnished a means to support his family.

Hietala has been employed by the Casper Ranger Company in Quincy and later by the L. Grossman Company.

According to his wife's story, she has been the support of the family until her last child was born several months ago.

Filene's

Back to YOU goes the money saved by charging for service

Filene's is a store where you get what you pay for and pay only for what you get. If you want no special services, we do not ask you to shoulder part of their expense; if you want deliveries and charge accounts, as so many good Filene customers do, you are asked to pay only their cost, not a penny more. That's fair, isn't it? And because this store is being operated more sanely, more fairly, more economically—we can give Filene Better Values—not in everything, mind, but on enough things so that each one may profit on something. Are you getting your share?

Huge Mother Goose paintings and lively graphophone records brighten the hair-cutting hour in the Filene children's sanitary, no-dip barber shop. Second floor.

Mothers may feel free to ask questions of nurses in constant attendance in the Filene Baby Shops. Written Inquiries will be given the same careful attention. Address them to "The Filene Baby Shops, Attention of the Nurse." Third floor.

Filene sunny gray shops for children cover half a floor

Trying to think of things to make baby's road easier, healthier and happier is the one big aim and whole job of the Filene baby shops specialists. They are not required to give thought or time to anything else. Which is the explanation of why many mothers think of going nowhere else.

Collapsible white enamel cribs that are play-pen and bassinette on wheels combined have screen sides and a netting covering, so may be used safely for outdoor sleeping. They fold instantly. Spring may be raised quickly to bassinette level and is reinforced so that it does not sag. Size 26x42 is $17.90; $18.90 with drop sides.

Warm knit wool drawer leggins begin at $1.75, and there are plenty of white ones. Also Copenhagen blue or rose.

Flannelette nightgowns, drawer and one and two-piece pajamas, $1, $1.50 and $2.

Gertrudes in flannel, with scalloped or crocheted edges, are $1.25. In flannelette, hemstitched, 60c.

Flannelette wrappers with overcast edges in pink or blue, and ribbon bows to match, for little tots, are adorable, 60c.

Little dresses of chambray, very fine quality, entirely made by hand and hand-smocked and hand-feather stitched, are $5.50. Sizes 3 to 6. In white batiste, $6.

White poplin dresses with little muslin frills, picot edged in color, are Filene better values at $1.65. Sizes 3 to 6.

Filene's—mail orders filled—third floor.

JORDAN STORE CLUB MEETS AT BANQUET

Governor Coolidge Honor Guest of Quarter Century Organization

With Governor Calvin Coolidge occupying the seat of honor, the first banquet of the Quarter Century Club of Jordan Marsh Company, at the Somerset last night, was one of the most brilliant "get together" affairs that has been held by any mercantile organization in the annals of the city.

Aside from the mere attendant features which usually mark a dinner of this kind, there was an air of stability, force and character that seemed to permeate the occasion, and make it stand out prominently as one of its kind.

The banquet hall was handsomely decorated with the national colors and a handsome banner bearing the inscription "Quarter Century Club, Jordan Marsh Co." An orchestra hidden behind potted plants played throughout the evening, and the Schubert Quartet rendered several selections.

HAWKINS TOASTMASTER.

As the guests were about to be seated Governor Coolidge arrived, and was escorted by Walter A. Hawkins to a seat of honor. After dinner exercises were opened with a short address by Walter A. Hawkins as toastmaster, who, after welcoming the guests and members of the club, introduced as the first speaker President Thomas F. Lockney of the Quarter Century Club. Mr. Lockney replied in a short address, and concluded by conferring membership on Mr. Hawkins.

Governor Coolidge said in part: "I want to congratulate you, not only on the twenty-five years over which your service runs, but in building up this great establishment, known for the past fifty years throughout the country. I have a great interest in mercantile life and had hopes, and in fact still have hopes, to be some day a merchant, and to be able to supply people things in a mercantile line."

After speaking in this vein for some time, he added: "A short time ago we were wondering where we were going to get labor. Now the problem seems to be what are we going to do with the labor we have. A great many send a great scarcity of opportunity for labor. I do not believe it will be so. The death and pestilence which have followed war have taken millions, and the places of these people will have to be filled. Furthermore, as soon as the transatlantic service opens completely, I look for an exodus from this country of one, yes, possibly, two millions of people.

MORE CAPITAL THAN EVER.

"Employment depends upon capital, raw materials, and ready markets. As far as the first is concerned, there is more capital in this country than ever before in its history. With regard to raw materials, as soon as the government allows the vast quantities of goods at its command to be released, together with other production, there will be plenty of available raw materials. The ready market, I firmly believe, is at hand and will be more at least for everything that can be produced in the country."

One of the pleasantest features of the evening was a series of reminiscences by Assistant Treasurer John H. Cone. It was accompanied with some pictures showing the advancement of the store from the first place on the corner of Hanover and Mechanic streets in 1849 up to the present day, with a lot of extra photographs of scenes and individuals connected with the firm. Among those at the head table were: Thomas F. Lockney, Stanton Wrigley, treasurer Jordan Marsh Company; Frank W. Coombs, director Jordan Marsh Company; W. B. Williams, George W. Mitton, President Jordan Marsh Company; Governor Coolidge, Walter A. Hawkins, Miss Ellen D. Jordan, Henry Dow, Mrs. Henry Russell, Wallace D. Williams, Mrs. Malcolm Lang, Mrs. Walter A. Hawkins, Lieutenant Colonel John H. Barrows, aide to the Governor; Augustus G. Stacke and George H. Guest.

UNITED STATES STARTED GOING DRY 86 YEARS AGO

New York, Jan. 17.—It has been eighty-six years since the United States started going dry." The first step was in 1822, when Congress enacted a law forbidding the sale of liquor to Indians. The next step was in 1833, when it was declared that excessive use of alcoholic liquors was a bar to appointment to civil service positions. The sparkling fluids were barred from military posts in 1890 and since the prohibitory measures have come thick and fast.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath hot and stomach sour?

Harmless "fruit laxative" best to clean tender liver and bowels.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no small size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advertisement.

Some people have the idea

—that everything will be cheaper from now on. Some things may be, but practically everything you wear will be higher next spring than it has been this season. By next fall prices may be slightly lower, but probably not any lower than our regular prices of this season. Meanwhile our

Mark-Down SALE

—gives you an opportunity to tide yourself over this critical period just ahead by getting some of these fine garments of pre-war quality at substantial reductions from the exceptionally low prices they've been selling at all this season.

We're not holding this sale to rid our stock of any "war fabrics" which will soon be unsalable at any price, nor to work off any manufacturer's mistakes, nor to square ourselves for over-charging in the past.

Its sole purpose is to reduce stocks to a peace basis so that we may offer our customers new goods as soon as they are available in qualities and at prices equal to our offerings of this present season.

So don't hesitate to buy anything you expect to need for the rest of this winter and all of next, for you'll see no values better than these, if as good, either here or elsewhere, during that time.

THOUSANDS SIGN PETITION TO GIVE HEROES 6 MONTHS' PAY

Among the latest to be of service in this respect is Branch No. [illegible] of the Carmen's Union, 1,[illegible] of whose members signed the petition and sent it to the Soldiers' Friend. Many of these men have sons in the service.

A travelling salesman who came forward and offered to aid in securing signatures said that he was convinced of the necessity for such an act on the part of the United States government by the experience of his own son, who told of hardships due to lack of funds and delayed pay.

Congressional action favoring this petition is expected to follow the introduction of two bills providing for six months' pay for every soldier at the time of his discharge. Congressman Galvin is the latest to introduce such a measure and he is pushing it hard.

Scores of letters have been received commending the action of the American in seeking to gain due recognition for the valor and sacrifices of the soldiers, both at home and abroad.

Many expressions of opinion have also been received thanking the American for taking up for quick settlement all the various problems that beset the soldier, sailor or marine in service or recently discharged from the service.

PHELAN SUPPORTS PLAN.

One of these is from James J. Phelan, until recently a member of the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee and president of the 101st Infantry Associates, an organization formed in the interests of the men of this famous fighting regiment.

Said Mr. Phelan, speaking on one phase of the work of the Soldiers' Friend:

"The 101st Infantry Associates are heartily in sympathy with the effort of the Soldiers' Friend to provide work for all discharged soldiers, sailors and marines and we shall co-operate with you in every way we can. It is the all important work to be done now."

This association has sent out 500 appeals to its members to see that no returned soldier of this regiment wants for work. The Soldiers' Friend will try to do as much for the men of whatsoever regiment or branch of the service.

The experience of one service man, Edward Sigur of No. 11 Bowman avenue, Lynn, is likely to be typical of a great many unless more than ordinary efforts are made to find places for the returning war heroes.

Mr. Sigur since last June was a sailor aboard the U. S. S. Aloha and returned to find a foreigner on his job. He declares that at the time of his enlistment he was promised his job back and now learns from his employer that the man who holds the job has a year's contract.

Naturally Mr. Sigur cannot wait until the contract expires before going to work and has appealed to the Soldiers' Friend to aid him in finding work.

LEGAL BUREAU ACTIVE.

The demands upon the legal department are getting more numerous from day to day, the calls thus far being for aid in getting naturalized, for information and assistance on how to present an insurance claim, for advice on lapsed payments on property and personal effects, and for explanations on the rights of a service man accruing in different ways since his enlistment. It is evident that the legal department is going to be very busy in giving advice and legal assistance.

The other departments of the Soldiers' Friend are proving to be of great usefulness to soldiers, sailors and marines, many of whom were prompt to avail themselves of it.

Men in the service or honorably discharged from it can receive information, assistance, legal or medical, or aid in finding work if they will communicate with the Soldiers' Friend at the Boston American, No. 80 Summer street.

How Soldiers' Friend Will Help Heroes of War

The purposes of the Soldiers' Friend follow:

1—To conduct a legal bureau, with headquarters in Washington and with branches in each city where a Hearst paper is published.

2—To have the severe sentences of courts-martial examined into to see if any injustice has been done and to fight for the righting of all wrongs that may have been done by courts-martial.

3—To aid discharged soldiers in securing positions.

4—To list employers ready to hire discharged men.

6—To work for the rapid discharge of soldiers, with six months' pay in advance.

7—To help relatives find men in the service.

8—To hurry the settlement of allotments and pay where delays have occurred.

9—To provide information consistent with the nature of this department.

10—To aid in the formation of associations of veterans of the great war; to list those formed and to assist them in working out their plans.

11—To arrange lodgings for visiting service men.

12—To give legal and seek personal aid where soldiers' families are threatened with dispossess proceedings.

Soldiers' Friend

Readers of the Boston American are following with daily growing interest the answers of the Soldiers' Friend to queries of every nature relative to men in the service and their affairs.

How to Sell Your Services

IT may not come amiss to give our readers some definite suggestions on a subject that is of vital interest to many of them.

That is—How to Find a Job.

If you are out of employment, or seek to better your position, you will do well to note these hints, which are based on practical experience.

What you want is not general advice, but something right to the point. Here it is:

1. Get by yourself, and take stock of yourself thoroughly. Get a clear idea of (1) what you can do, (2) what you have done and (3) what you want to do.

2. As a rule you can succeed best, make the most money and be happiest, in working at what you like to do. Follow your natural bent when you can.

3. Look over the Want Ads in The American. Note which seem to offer the kind of employment you want. Cut them out. Paste each one on a separate card. Arrange the cards in the order of (1) preference and (2) locality.

4. Select the time of day you think most favorable, usually the earlier in the day the better, and call at each place.

5. After each call put down in your notebook just what results you get. Cross out those that are impossible.

6. Mark those to be called on again. Do not be discouraged if you don't succeed the first time. Call again. Employers value an exhibition of polite perseverance.

7. Keep as neat as you can. Your personal appearance counts. Do not dress flashily. Always be clean looking. Have your finger nails clean, your shoes polished and your clothes brushed. First impressions are important, and little things mean a lot.

8. Learn exactly what you want to say for yourself, and in your interview state briefly. Don't be long winded.

9. Be modest. Don't try to show off. Don't exhibit vanity.

10. Don't try to flatter the man you want to hire you. And don't underrate yourself. Be self-respecting and manly.

11. Don't refer to your race or religion or politics, and don't bring these subjects up, and if the other fellow does, answer frankly.

12. Be absolutely square and honest. Don't claim to do what you cannot, nor claim more education or experience than you really have.

13. Don't give up. Make up your mind to make "hunting your job" your job. Devote a certain number of hours a day to it. Work at it hard. And when you get through, quit. Relax. Go to a movie. Get to bed and have a good sleep. Then tackle it next day again.

14. Watch The Boston American Want Ads each day. Something new is always turning up.

15. Keep cheerful. Keep your head up. Your own will come to you. Self-pity is your worst enemy. If you plug away, systematically, daily, doggedly and bravely, you will get what you want.

16. And if you can't get what just suits, take the next best thing. Do something. And keep your eye open for something better.

SAYS COLD WEATHER BRINGS RETURN OF INFLUENZA

Public Must Be Careful to Avoid a Second Epidemic. Easier to Prevent Than Cure. What to Do.

"Encouraging reports of the fewer cases of influenza in this vicinity should not allow us to relax our vigilance or to become careless in the belief that the danger is all over," says a well-known authority. With the coming of cold weather there is apt to be a return of this frightful epidemic, and its seriousness will depend on the extent of the precautions taken by the public, to prevent infection.

When the air is full of influenza germs, you may be constantly breathing them into your nose and throat. But their danger may be avoided and you may make yourself practically immune to infection if you destroy the germ before it actually begins work in your blood.

During the recent serious epidemic, which hit Boston so hard, most successful results were obtained by many through the simple breathing into the nose, throat and lungs of the medicated air of oil of Hyomei. Probably no better, safer or more sensible precaution [illegible] passages of your nose, throat and lungs to destroy any germs that may have found lodgment there. This simple precaution may save you a serious illness and the loss of several weeks' work. It is pleasant to use and not at all expensive, as the inhaler will last a lifetime and further supplies of the Oil of Hyomei can be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Hundreds of people in this vicinity used Hyomei in this way during the recent crisis and avoided danger. They should not neglect it now, for the danger is by no means over.—Advertisement.

SANFORDS GINGER

Purest and best of warming stomachics for colds, chills, grip or influenza. Comforts weak stomachs, bowels, and nerves. Protects the traveler. Keep it on hand. When in doubt take a dose. Always helpful and healthful.

Look for Our Trade Mark on the wrapper, lest you get a worthless substitute. Forty-six years the standard of purity, flavor and strength. Never travel without it. Sold everywhere.

No Need To Be Thin, Scrawny or Sallow

It's Only Because the Stomach Doesn't Furnish Enough Nourishment to the Body.

If you are thin and want to be plump; if you have wrinkles in your face that you are not proud of; if the skin is sallow or subject to pimples or blackheads, take Mi-o-na stomach tablets for two weeks and notice the change.

The majority of the thin people are thin because the stomach does not perform its duties properly. It is not secreting sufficient of the natural digestive juices and in consequence does not extract from the food enough nutritive matter to nourish every part of the body. When the stomach does not do its work properly, the nourishment in the food you eat is not extracted and passes through the body without leaving any flesh building elements.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are intended to build up the stomach so that it will act properly and extract from the food all elements necessary to form good, solid flesh.

If you are thin try two weeks' treatment of Mi-o-na stomach tablets—they are small, easily swallowed and have made many friends by their proven value.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold on the guarantee of money back if they do not overcome indigestion, acute or chronic, stop stomach disturbance, belching, heartburn, sour stomach and any after-dinner distress.

For sale by all leading druggists.—Advertisement.

SEEMS EVERYONE HEARD ABOUT IT

All want to try new drug that dries up corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

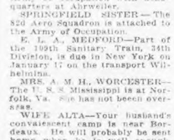

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.—Advertisement.

GOODBY, WOMEN'S TROUBLES

The tortures and discomforts of weak, lame and aching back, swollen feet and limbs, weakness, dizziness, nausea, as a rule have their origin in kidney trouble; not "female complaints." These general symptoms of kidney and bladder disease are well known—so is the remedy.

Next time you feel a twinge of pain in the back or are troubled with headache, indigestion, insomnia, irritation in the bladder or pain in the loins and lower abdomen, you will find quick and sure relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This old and tried remedy for kidney trouble and allied derangements has stood the test for hundreds of years. It does the work. Pains and troubles vanish and new life and health will come as you continue their use. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day.

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported from the laboratories at Haarlem, Holland. Do not accept a substitute. In sealed boxes, three sizes.—Advertisement.

A MOTHER'S STRENGTH

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. It is as unwise for the mother, as it is dangerous to the child, to place dependence upon alcoholic stimulation, for strength is not found in alcohol.

HELPING THE PRETTY NEIGHBOR TO HER FEET AFTER A SPILL JUST AS YOUR WIFE APPEARS AT THE CORNER.

VITT AND WASHINGTON PLAYER ARE HEADED FOR RED SOX

By NICK FLATLEY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17—The many baseball trades that have been in the making are due to hatch out today, or any old time. Red Sox, Detroit and Washington magnates have been closeted by the hour several times, and at least one three-cornered swap seems ready to drop off the griddle. Indications point toward the Sox acquiring Vitt from Detroit and an outfielder from Washington, with a chance that Bobby Roth may also be gathered in from the Cleveland Indians.

All this will come off, or be given up as a bad job, within the next few hours. Meantime, the big question, from a Boston viewpoint, is, what is going to happen to the Braves. Here are the facts in the case: Millet, Roe and Hagan, owners of the club, have absolutely decided to get rid of it. They have had more than enough of baseball. But, and it's a but that seems very likely to throw the entire outfit on to the mercies of the National League, they have set a price. Till they get that price they will not sell, and that price, according to those who should know, is entirely out of reason under present conditions.

Stallings-Hapgood Bid Not Pudgy Enough.

THE best offer to date has been made by the Stallings-Hapgood combine, but it doesn't come up to the set figure and consequently, has not been accepted. The facts in the case resolve themselves just into this: Millet, Roe and Hagan will not sell the team and they will not keep it. Most parcels of property can be held until rising values make them salable, but a baseball club cannot. The Boston bankers, who apparently intend to do nothing whatever toward building up the team, will soon be confronted with a flock of expenses which apparently they will not incur.

The time for trades and deals is now. All the baseball powers are there, and a few extra are gathered here. A [illegible] trade that is [illegible] Manager Stallings [illegible] money to make [illegible] and as an actual [illegible] not really get any of his regular men signed up until he at least knows that the owners of the club are to make some sort of a move.

We know for a fact that the Georgian urged strongly a month or so before the armistice was signed that he be given money to get into the open market and get a few players. As he expressed it, "with the $60,000 I asked for at that time I could have bought enough players to make the Braves championship contenders. The majority of magnates, fearing an off season, were crying for ready money. I would have bet my year's contract that the amount named would have brought another National League title to Boston, but I couldn't get a cent to work with."

Stallings' argument was that the investment would have paid for itself in a month when the game was resumed.

* * *

Stallings Says Gaffney Won't Return to Boston.

THE situation, as far as we see it, is rapidly getting down to a point where the club through Millet, Roe and Hagan as owners will have to do something, or the National League will revoke the Boston franchise. The white elephant will not only smear things in Boston but will gum up the whole league in a manner which the organization could scarcely countenance.

The condition of the sick child of baseball just now the Braves is very serious and unless the doctors get busy very quickly funeral plans will very shortly have to be arranged.

According to Stallings, there is not a chance in the world of Gaffney getting the club back. George should know, having looked the books over very closely with an eye to purchase. The [illegible] greatly incensed about the rumor [illegible] Evers [illegible] and raising Stallings out. George takes as much pride in his baseball reputation and his team as he does in his Georgia farm [illegible], which is saying a mouthful.

He is willing to tell the world that he could have kept his team in the race any of the last three seasons if he had been allowed to do anything at all. He can point out a dozen instances [illegible] to prove this. In fact he actually has kept teams which didn't rank much above class B outfits, racing along with the best for months at a time.

* * *

First Brave Signs; Sh-h-h! It's J. Slattery.

JACK SLATTERY [illegible] Stallings knows more about managing and playing [illegible] than all the other pilots together do in a week. Which reminds us that Stallings, even though he is nine miles in the air about the future, is doing a little business in the hope that the millenium occurs and the team shows signs of life.

He signed up Slattery to "right eye" during 1919 and he has arranged a tentative Spring training program. In this latter instance, he shows the judgment that foreshadows his shrewdness as magnate having decided to train in Georgia. He has persuaded Owner Navin of the Detroit Tigers to condition there also. The Braves will go to Columbia and the Jennings outfit to Macon. They will be thus close enough together to play exhibitions on the way North.

Stallings hopes with a lot of confidence that Hammering Henry Gowdy will be back from the war by March. He also figures that Rabbit Maranville will be out of the navy then. These two alone would pack any park anywhere, first out, he declares.

* * *

Ray Caldwell Through, States Bill Donovan.

ACCORDING to Wild Bill Donovan, former Yankee manager, there isn't much chance of Slim Ray Caldwell being a great help to the Red Sox this season. Wild Bill told us that last season Caldwell's real fast ball, always his great asset, was among the missing. "There is not much chance of his ever coming back," he [illegible].

"Caldwell has promised to reform and show his best," said Bill, "but he's too late. His fast one is gone. When he showed against us last year in Detroit, he was bluffing along without any of the speed that made him a wonderful pitcher."

HERRMANN WILL STICK; 21 MEN CLUB LIMITS

New York, Jan. 17.—The reactionary element remains in possession of baseball affairs [illegible] of the National and American Leagues. It was voted to retain the present [illegible] governing the game [illegible] three-man commission.

Garry Herrmann, chairman, holds over until such time as a more available man can be secured. The action means that Ban Johnson won his point, as he had steadily fought for the retention of the old three-man commission, with Herrmann at the head.

There was a strong element in the National League in favor of a one-man commissioner, but this sentiment found only one defender in the American League, Harry Frazee, Boston president and Johnson's bitterest enemy in baseball.

On the subject of a chairman it was decided that each league president appoint a committee of two, who will try to find an available man to fill the chairmanship, preferably one who is not connected with baseball in any way.

The committees only have power to recommend a candidate to their respective [illegible].

PLAYER LIMIT UNIFORM.

The joint conference formally approved [illegible] schedule of 140 games [illegible] the National League [illegible] the American Leagues player limit of twenty-one men, thus making it uniform.

Matters regarding the World's Series receipts were discussed. It was announced that the National Commission had taken the matter under advisement and it would, in the near future, announce a new method of dividing the players' pools.

The joint conference failed to touch on the matter of a salary limit. The limit adopted Wednesday by the National League came in for much adverse criticism. American League men say they will not go along with any such idea, and that their clubs can pay their players what they please.

"It is up to each individual club to pay its players what it chooses," said Johnson. "We will not try to legislate for our clubs on such matter."

Other American League club owners expressed themselves in a similar manner. They absolutely are opposed to any curb on the amount of money they may pay their players. Even the National League has pretty near come to the conclusion that it again has made a severe baseball blunder.

After a long discussion of the minor leagues' claims the big league moguls decided to let the little fellows go their own way. The so-called Cincinnati agreement was dropped and this automatically abrogated the draft rule.

It was agreed that contracts, terms for signings and reservations would be respected but otherwise the majors and minors would have no connection [illegible].

Hereafter the major league clubs can buy players of [illegible] in what amounts [illegible] open market.

ABANDON PLAN TO LIMIT PAY OF PLAYERS

By NICK FLATLEY.

New York, Jan. 17.—The sensational $11,000 per month salary limit of the National League which foreshadowed a players' strike and cheaper baseball, is due for a sudden death.

The National League was to meet today and pin the bee on its great to-per-bucket scheme. This has not officially been announced but we have it from a source which is apparently absolutely authentic.

The move created the greatest hubbub that has featured the big gathering of the baseball world here. Everybody in the game jumped on the poor National League. When the magnates of both leagues got into session the American Leaguers stormily berated the idea, it is reported.

However, from players, press and fans quickly told the magnates they had done something that wasn't popular and a hurry up meeting of the National League ordered to erase the blunder from the records.

THREE-HEAT PLAN NOT FOR BAY STATE CIRCUIT

Worcester, Jan. 17.—The Bay State Trotting Circuit voted down the three-heat system by an overwhelming vote at its annual meeting here. No attempt was made to prepare this year's racing slate. The fair at Sturbridge made application for membership and probably will be awarded dates.

Edward Mouton of Worcester was re-elected president and C. Bernard Austin, Boston newspaperman, secretary and treasurer.

PARKER-STRONA IN MAIN GO AT C. A. C.

By RINGSIDE

Matchmaker McKirdy of the Continental A. C. is the original "horseshoe guy." No matter what happens he seems to come up smiling.

With two forced shifts in his card as originally arranged for tonight the West End fight promoter has dug up a nifty pair of substitutes and the final card is better than the one he first arranged.

In the main muss Charley Parker is pitted against Young Strona. The New Bedford youngster is the toughest of the tough and [illegible] packs one of those well-known wallops.

Some of the fans have been unkind enough to hint that the majority of Parker's foemen to date have been setups which of course [illegible] all agree that the South [illegible] ster has a man's sized job on his hands tonight.

Charlie Parker and [illegible] two of the [illegible] youngsters [illegible] matched [illegible] meet in a 12-round [illegible].

In the other three bouts Young Gould meets Young Nelson in a ten-rounder. Tommy F[illegible] with Young Viera, eight rounds, and Young Kelley and Young [illegible] open the card, six rounds.

* * *

According to a well-founded rumor the two clubs [illegible] the Tripe-A and the Central A. C., are trying to sign up Red Norfolk and Clay Turner for another battle. [illegible] just about enough of this. Norfolk can beat Turner six nights a week, and no one knows it better than the Indian himself.

Market Weak Over Midday, After Bear Drive

RAIDED STOCKS LAGGARD IN RECOVERY

Mexican Petroleum Was Off 9¾ at Its Lowest Price

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor.

Stocks were still weak early in the afternoon in New York, but a number of issues had slightly improved during the midday period. The market was dull at this time, but nearly 40,000 shares changed hands during the morning. The bear raid of the forenoon on certain industrials, including steels, was attributed in part by predictions of a labor leader that unemployment would cause bread lines in some manufacturing centres by May.

Early in the afternoon Mexican Petroleum was off 5⅝ at 175⅝, after a decline of nearly 10 points during the morning. It touched 171¾ at its lowest. Other declines around 2 o'clock were U. S. Steel 91, off ⅞; Texas Co. off 2⅛ at 188¾; Crucible off 2⅛ at 54⅝; Marine preferred off a point at 103; Atlantic Gulf off a point at 102½, and Studebaker off a point at 49¼. International Paper had gained 1⅞ at 33⅝. American Hide & Leather preferred 1¼ at 82⅝ and National Lead ½ at 68¾.

In Boston Massachusetts Electric preferred, the only active issue, was up 1⅛ at 16⅞. Its highest for the day had been 17¾.

Prices were off in New York by noontime, although the range was above the morning lowest. There was heavy selling in the second hour, with the drive rather pronounced against oil and steel issues. Railroads were comparatively firm under pressure, and Distillers went through the forenoon without receding. There were substantial gains for a number of stocks at the opening or soon afterwards, but the uncertainty which permeates speculation soon had a depressing effect upon the list in general. The market was quite active, and especially during the second hour. There was a lull in trading at noonday.

NEW YORK OPENED STRONG.

Prices advanced in New York at the opening, with buying orders well distributed, and oils, tobacco, steel and some specialties being in especial demand. Railroads and coppers continued quiet. American Hide and Leather preferred was an early feature, advancing nearly two points within a few minutes. There was extensive covering in this issue. Its earnings for the last 1918 quarter are said to exceed dividend requirements twice over and the declaration of another satisfactory disbursement is expected when directors meet on Tuesday next. Interests close to the management are said to have been accumulating this stock. Distillers was another issue soon to advance more than a point. This company is expected to do a very large business prior to the enforcement of national prohibition, and it is assumed it will have a large amount of assets to distribute, if its affairs are liquidated.

TRADERS TAKE PROFITS.

The market was made by the professional element and traders were inclined to realize quickly. Offerings soon exceeded demand and with in a few minutes prices eased off in most groups. The decline of oils was marked, Mexican Petroleum sagging three points and Texas Co. two within the first hour. Royal Dutch also weakened. Consolidated Gas declined more than three points soon after the start. American Tobacco and United Cigar Stores receded more than a point. Steel issues grew stronger as a group during the first half hour, but their gains were small and they soon reflected selling pressure upon other stocks. Crucible dropped more than two points. The early advance, taking the list in its entirety, was attributed to short covering more than to anything else.

The demand for call money in New York after the close yesterday is reported by brokers to have been more extensive than for some time, and among issues prominent in such borrowing were American Hide and Leather preferred, Studebaker, Marine preferred and a number of steels.

The professional element was in great doubt apparently as to which side to take, as careful analysis of the recent movements of the market affords little upon which to base judgment as to the probable price trend. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the market has considerable technical strength. Much of the recent selling has undoubtedly been for short account. While news dispatches concerning the Bolshevistic movement indicate favorable developments, there is much uneasiness concerning the foreign situation, and this is creating for stock market uncertainty.

FINANCIAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

Citizens of Utah have voted for a constitutional amendment providing for taxing incomes of mines. Mine owners campaigned vigorously but vainly against it.

On the first day of this year the per capita circulation of money in this country was $5.76. A year ago it was $48.76. Money in circulation on January 1, 1919, totalled $5,591,268,126. On January 1, 1918, it was $5,120,424,908.

Cosden Co.'s net for 1918 will approximate $10,000,000, it is estimated. This would be equivalent to $2.80 a share on common stock after 7 per cent. dividends on preferred. Application will be made to list all Cosden & Co. stock and bonds issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The American Smelting and Refining Company will construct a deepwater terminal at Tampico, Mexico, and ship the bulk of its Mexican productions by water instead of by an all-rail route across the Rio Grande.

United Drug Company sales for 1918 will exceed $51,000,000 exclusive of English business. Its manufacturing business has expanded more than 40 per cent.

Rand Gold Production

Gold production of the Rand mines in December last totaled 641,245 fine ounces, valued at £2,723,836, compared with 658,701 ounces, valued at £3,068,839 in the corresponding 1917 month.

N. Y. COTTON MARKET WEAK AT OPENING

New York, Jan. 17.—Weak Liverpool cables and heavy selling by English houses offset the favorable shipping news of the day, and the cotton market opened weak at a decline of from 20 to 56 points. The selling was increased by Southern hedging and liquidation by some of the old bulls who had carried their cotton through recent declines. A rally of 20 points occurred soon after the opening on trade buying speculative covering, as well as buying by certain Wall street interests for a reaction.

Opening prices were: January 26.25, March 24.98, May 23.45, July 22.35, October 20.25.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Corn opened ⅝c. higher. Oats were ⅜ to ⅝c. higher. Provisions opened higher.

Opening prices were: January, 1.28¾; February, 1.34¾; March, 1.32. Oats: January, 67⅛; February, 67⅝; March, 67⅝. Lard: May 23.80. Ribs: May, 22.45.

Hub Trust Co. Chartered.

The Hub Trust Company, with a capital of $200,000 has obtained a Massachusetts charter and will be located on Tremont street, near Scollay square. Patrick O'Hearn, former building commissioner of Boston, Judge Thomas H. Connelly and Oliver S. Hayward of Dorchester are the prime movers in the institution.

Money Market

There is no greater ease in the money situation locally. The payment of certificates of indebtedness caused heavy withdrawals from banks yesterday. In regard to larger banks, it was said yesterday that their government deposits are nearly wiped out and will be replenished only by subscriptions to the fourth certificate issue of $600,000,000 for the country and about $48,000,000 locally. The Boston money market remains the firmest in the country.

Call money holds at 6 per cent. here. Time money is quoted at 6 per cent. There is a fair out-of-town market for commercial paper at 5½ to 6 per cent.

New York call money was a shade firmer yesterday at 4½ per cent. to 5 per cent. Time money for sixty and ninety days stood at 5½ per cent. on mixed collateral. The commercial paper range was 5 per cent. to 5½ per cent., with only the choicest short maturities at the first figure.

COTTON MEN FOR A WORLD CONFERENCE

Committee Meets in Washington to Plan Great Gathering

Washington, Jan. 17.—Plans for a world cotton conference were taken up here today to shape the future of the cotton business. The meeting of the committee on arrangements was proposed by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers and approved by the Master Cotton Spinners in the hope that drastic after-the-war conditions in the market might be met.

Appointment of a committee on foreign representation to be composed of not less than nine members to visit Great Britain and other European countries and to invite participation of textile associations in the proposed world cotton conference was recommended at the meeting. This committee would also report back to the conference how the United States can best aid reconstruction and equipment of European textile centres destroyed by German armies.

At today's session President W. Frank Shove, of the National Association, outlined the following subjects which could properly come before the proposed conference.

1—The buying and selling of cotton.

2—The growing and handling of cotton, with due consideration of the methods for insuring long needed improvements in ginning, compressing and the standardizing of bales.

3—Transportation of cotton, with discussion of means to put an end to country damage and to bring about better means for the warehousing and financing of cotton.

4—Discussion of the world's consumption requirements of cotton, with careful thought for the possible need of a system of apportionment among the nations with which we enjoy reciprocal trade relations.

5—Means for increasing and improving cotton production in the United Kingdom and this country.

6—Consideration of the machinery needed for replacement and development of the textile industry, especially in France and Belgium.

7—The part the United States, as a creditor nation, is to play in world readjustment with regard to the needs and the future of the textile industry.

8—Discussion of the international standardization of the hours of labor in the textile and other industries.

Many more hearings will be necessary before the case is taken under advisement by the commission.

Merchant Ships Released

NEW WAR PLAY HAS NO STAR ROLE

Willette Kershaw Plays Bigger Part Better Than Many a Leading Woman

By FRED J. McISAAC.

Willette Kershaw is not the star of "The Crowded Hour." There is no star in that rapidly moving drama of love in war time.

Nevertheless, Miss Kershaw has a bigger part and plays it better than many an actress whose name twinkles in the electric lights, and stardom for her is probably just waiting around the corner.

I happen to know something about the little actress who has scored such a personal success in this unusually good play.

In the Spring of 1914 I crossed to the Mediterrenean upon a steamer which also carried Miss Kershaw. She was then the unhappiest little mortal I had ever set eyes upon.

SCORED IN REPULSIVE ROLE.

After years of hard, solid work, discouraging lack of recognition and tribulations that only great pluck could have overcome, she had startled New York by a vivid and uncanny presentation of a dreadful streetwalker in "Any Night."

It was a role so repulsive that several prominent actresses had refused to play it. After she had made a sensational success in the part all our leading actresses exhibited a desire to play female pariahs, from Julia Arthur and Elsie Ferguson down.

At the height of her triumph she was taken ill. A combination of hard work and nerves broke her down. She fell one night upon the stage and was sick for months with typhoid. Then the doctors told her she must go away, leave the stage, turn her back upon her career for months, perhaps years.

She started for Switzerland at a few hours' notice, alone in the world save for a companion whom she had taken from a manicure parlor.

She knew that New York would forget her in a very few weeks, and if she was ever able to resume her work she would have her career to build all over again.

STARTED AT BOSTON.

Fortunately she recovered, returned and started pluckily again at the bottom of the ladder. And, fortunately, her work in "The Crowded Hour" has surpassed her role in "Any Night."

To be sure, New York hasn't seen her in this role, but the big town has heard about her, and it will be a short step now from Chicago and Boston to Broadway.

I saw Miss Kershaw just after the performance last night while she still wore the telephone operator's natty blue uniform.

"I am so glad you like hte part," she said. "It is the sort of role that makes no appeals to false sentimentality, and is heedless of smug conventionality.

"I do not consider Peggy a great heroine. I don't think that type is capable beyond a certain limit. She is a selfish, untutored, unmoral little idiot. Her love is the biggest hting in her life, but it is a selfish love up to the crowded hour.

CHANGED BY BIG EVENTS.

"The events which change her are so big that even her limited mind understands that individuals are no longer of importance.

"The theatrical thing for the playwrights to do would have been to throw Peggy into her lover's arms for the final curtain, figuring that a girl who had won the croix de guerre was good enough for him, and arranging a quick and painless divorce from his moralizing wife.

"I am glad Mr. Selwyn and Mr. Pollock didn't take this easiest way.

"These two people, after being purified by fire, shouldn't be let flop back into their former mire, and Peggy, while a good little kid all right, would have just about ruined that young man's life if she had married him."

WORCESTER TO CELEBRATE DRY VOTE OF NATION

Worcester, Jan. 17.—Preachers of Worcester are planning to hold a celebration in honor of the ratification by more than thirty-six States of the national prohibition amendment. This will be held in a week or two. Special sermons will be preached on the subject Sunday. Already hotel owners and others selling liquor are looking to a disposition of their business.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

Close All the Low Class Dance Halls in Boston

They have locked the door of St. James Hall, but they haven't destroyed the nuisance which happened to be located there by any means.

When the low women and unscrupulous men who were in the habit of frequenting that dance hall found it closed, last night, they undoubtedly proceeded a little further, and disgraced other public dance halls where the only requirement for admission was money enough to pay the fee.

If a man speaks to a woman on the street without an introduction she is justified in calling a policeman.

If a woman speaks to a man on the street without knowing him she is likely to be sent to jail.

But let such people pay the admission fee at a public dance hall, and they scrape acquaintance with the greatest ease and in perfect security.

This newspaper is not opposed to dancing. It is a graceful and agreeable recreation, particularly pleasing to young people.

Undoubtedly a large percentage of the young people who frequent public dance halls are hard working and respectable, in search of honest enjoyment. But it is a shame that such people should be compelled to patronize places which do not discriminate.

No young girl should go to a dance alone, nor should she accept the escort of a stranger whom she met casually. Of course, it will be retorted, that many girls would dance very little if they waited for invitations from men to go to dancing parties.

And when they had arrived at a public dance hall alone or in couples they would be wall flowers all the evening if they refused to dance with unknown young men who requested the privilege.

That is true.

What is the remedy?

Our war activities have solved it for the soldiers and sailors. The war is over. Let us now turn to the young people in civil life and give them equal opportunity to meet and dance under proper auspices.

The American advises young girls who respect themselves to keep away from such public dance halls as was the St. James. There are two or three more in Metropolitan Boston which are almost as bad, and now that one pest hole has been plugged up they will be the resort of its former patrons. All low class dance halls in Boston should be closed.

Congressman Tinkham and the Irish Question

George Holden Tinkham is a member of Congress from Massachusetts. Mr. Tinkham is a Republican in politics. He is neither Irish nor Catholic. He comes of an old New England family which goes back to the landing of the Mayflower. He is a rich man. He is a graduate of Harvard, a student of history and of public affairs.

He was the first American to fire a gun on the Italian front after our declaration of war. He was an ardent pro-ally and enthusiastically for the war. But he does not like the foreign propaganda, not German, which he sees in full career in this country, aided by a few New York lawyers.

Moreover, Mr. Tinkham believes that what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. He believes in self-determination for Ireland. This is what he says about it:

I am in favor of this committee reporting to the House of Representatives one of the resolutions which it has before it. The one I prefer is the one introduced by the honorable representative from Illinois, Mr. Gallagher, because of its simplicity and directness.

In 1775 America began the contest to establish for all time the only fundamental truth upon which government can rest and by which a State can endure, that the consent of the governed is necessary for all law and order. That principle was established by the American Revolution, and is the first and most fundamental of American ideals.

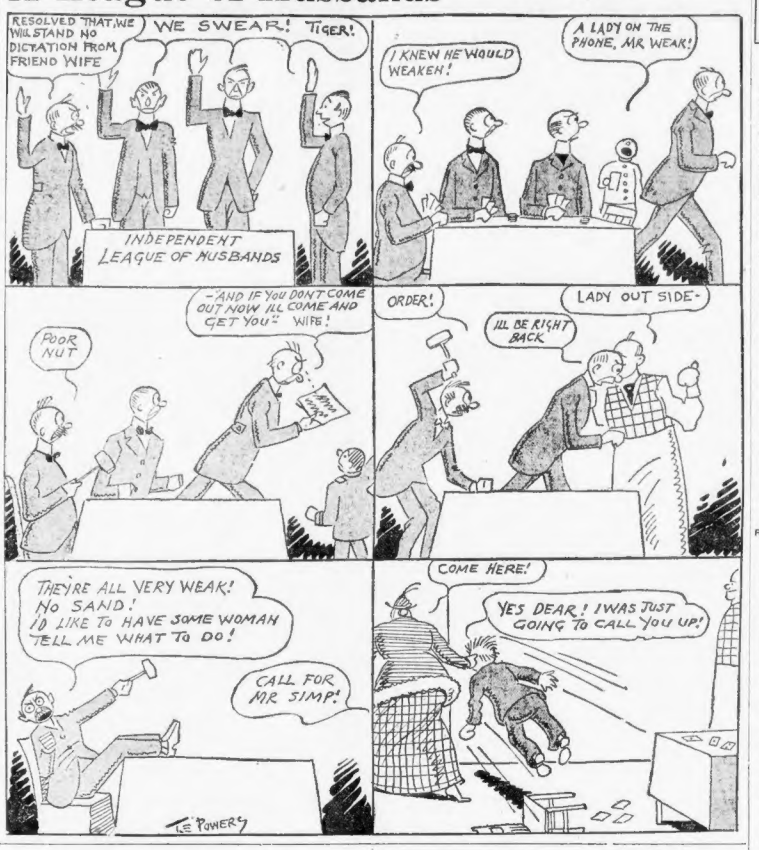

America engaged in the great world war for that principle, so it was declared by our President and so it was fought by America.

Justice for all peoples and all countries, particularly the small countries, was his assertion. No peace but one of justice, he said, could be a lasting peace. Our President, who is our representative in France at this moment, has said that self-determination should be the rule to govern the establishment of States and nations under any peace to which America should assent. Therefore, it is fit and proper that the Congress should pass a resolution expressing its opinion that Ireland should be treated with equal justice and upon the same principles as other nationalities in the coming peace treaties. Ireland repeatedly has asserted her nationality and has demanded self-determination. When the world is to be governed by free peoples the claim of Ireland cannot be ignored.

Let us again at this important moment when the public mind is being made anew reassert our belief in the fundamental American principle of government, that the consent of the governed alone is the test for government and for justice, and that no country, race or nationality, including Ireland, be excluded from its application.

What disinterested American can doubt the truth of Mr. Tinkham's resolution? Yet there are Irishmen, like Dr. E. J. Dillon, foreign correspondent of the American, who, while claiming the right of self-determination for four million Irishmen, would deny it to 163,000,000 Russians! Consistency thou are a RARE jewel!

Letters to the Editor

Facts About Poland

Editor Boston American:

I have been asked by my fellow members of the Polish Citizens' Committee of Massachusetts to reply to your editorial of December 28. A decent regard for fair play will induce you to publish this reply. "Polish People should Curb Aristocratic Class" was the heading of your editorial.

Reaching your conclusion by arbitrary selection of reports from abroad or simply assuming for the sake of an editorial foundation you state that the Poles "have been led into barbarities against the Jews which very seriously prejudice the sympathy of the world for their cause."

Digressing from the main purpose of this reply, let me here say that there has been no creditable evidence of massacres of Jews in Poland by Poles, that the evidence of any Jewish massacres is weak and that in all cases of Jewish killings in Poland the perpetrators have been shown to be not only not Poles but enemies of Poles, of Poland and of the allies. To return to my main object—following this statement you proceed to read a political-moral lecture to the Polish people here based upon another falsehood, this time a falsehood that has been historically proven to the point of absolute rejection by all students of history—that the partition of Poland "was due entirely to the selfishness of the Polish nobility and her privileged class in quarreling among themselves over a division of the right to plunder their own people."

The second partition of Poland (1793), that sealed the fate of the Polish Republic and the real crime for which the Poles were then punished, as authoritatively states Professor R. H. Lord of Harvard, was not caused by the selfishness of the Polish nobility, but an attempt of the Poles for national regeneration.

The real reason for Poland's downfall was the rapacity of her neighbors, greedy and strong, who considered Poland as a bad and dangerous example of liberalism or of democracy as we would say today, for their own subjects.

The Polish people at present need not and cannot curb what practically hardly exists. The best proof of it is the fact that the provisional government in Poland at the present time is altogether in the hands of the labor classes and not in the hands of the nobility over there.

Their scheme at present is to provoke the Polish people and to hurt the Polish cause by disseminating alarming reports about fictitious massacres of the Jewish race by the Poles. The Polish people never have nor never will massacre Jews.

ROMAN F. WELZANT,
Chairman.

The undersigned respectfully urge you to return to their homes as soon as possible the soldiers who have accomplished so brilliantly every object America had in the war.

We urge, also, that you obtain the necessary authority to pay these men their military wages for six months, or for some sufficient period after their discharge from the army until they can obtain useful and remunerative employment.

We urge this as an act of simple justice by a great nation to its heroes.

I HAVE a friend.
AND HE doesn't like cats.
AND THE other night.
HE SAW one on the street.
AND IT followed him.
AND LOOKED very thin.
AND IT made him mad.
AND HE went back and got it.
AND PUT it over a fence.
IN A little bit of a yard.
WHERE SOME one kept wood.
AND THEN he went home.
AND ATE his dinner.
AND THOUGHT of the cat.
AND TRIED to forget it.
AND COULDN'T do it.
AND SAT down in a chair.
IN FRONT of a fire.
AND WENT to sleep.
AND HAD a dream.
THAT A lot of cats.
HAD COME into the room.
AND WERE all very thin.
AND WERE crying for food.
AND HE'D put them out.
AND THEY'D come back.
AND HE couldn't get rid of them.
AND THEY kept walking around.
AND THEIR eyes were bright.
AND HE tossed around.
IN HIS big chair.
AND AT last woke up.
ALL COLD and clammy.
AND AFTER a while.
HE WENT back to sleep.
AND HAD another dream.
THAT HE was a cat.
AND WAS out in an alley.
SEARCHING FOR cans.
AND THEY all had covers.
AND HE couldn't get into them.

AND HE was hungry.
AND A dog chased him.
AND A man came out.
AND THREW something at him.
AND HIT him.
AND HE woke up again.
CLAMMY LIKE before.
AND SAT around awhile.
AND THE fire got warmer.
AND HE dozed again.
AND THEN had a dream.
THAT HE was hungry himself.
AND NOBODY would feed him.
AND HE couldn't stand it.
AND IT woke him up.
AND HE thought about it.
AND GOT his hat.
AND WENT back to the place.
AND FOUND it there.
AND TOOK it home.
AND WENT out in the kitchen
AND GOT some milk.
AND FIXED it a bed.
AND WENT to bed himself.
AND DREAMED he was in California.
PICKING ORANGE blossoms.
AND I think it's all a lie.
BUT THAT'S what he told me.
AND HE showed me the cat.

I THANK you.

Aims of Bolsheviki Outlined by a Russian Authority

By Dr. C. Hagberg Wright

Traveler, Author of Several Books on Russia

Second installment of Dr. Wright's close-up view of Bolshevism. Yesterday the American published the points of the constitution of the Soviet Republic of Russia. The entire article was received by mail dated London, December 20.

I WILL now give some paragraphs from a regulation "on the eight-hour working day" (a regulation promulgated from Petrograd "in the name of the Russian Republic") by the Labor Commissary ad interim.

This law extends over all enterprises and business concerns independently of their dimensions or their owners, and over all persons working for hire.

The working time as established by the rules of internal order of the enterprise must not exceed eight working hours every day, or 48 hours a week, including the time necessary for the cleaning of the machinery and the putting in order of the place of the works.

On Christmas Eve and on the eve of Trinity Sunday all work must be stopped at noon.

During night-time it is prohibited to employ women and workmen younger than 16 years of age.

RULES FOR HIRING MINORS

In hiring minors younger than 18 years of age, the following rules are to be observed, in addition to those stated above: (a) boys younger than 14 years of age cannot be hired for work; (b) the working time of boys under 18 years of age cannot be of a longer duration than seven hours.

Note—From January 1, 1919, no one who has not attained 15 years of age can be hired for work, and from January 1, 1920, no one below 20 years of age.

For specially injurious manufactures and works in which the workmen are subjected to the action of specially unfavorable conditions or the danger of professional poisoning, the working time mentioned must be reduced. A list of such works and manufactures, with indication of the duration of the working time and other conditions for each separate work, shall be drawn up by the Chief Department for factories and mining works.

No women, or boys under 18 years of age, are allowed to be occupied in underground works.

No women, or boys younger than 18 years of age, are allowed to work overtime.

The duration of overtime work of each separate workman shall not in any way exceed four hours during any two days running.

CONSTRUCTIVE IDEA WINS

What should one say to all this?

One thing seems quite clear—the Bolshevik revolution was not merely the victory of a destructive force; it was also the victory of a constructive idea.

Think of that idea what you will, it is a milestone in human history, and for many a long day and in every part of the world millions will see in it a signpost. Even if it be fallacious, it is a no worse case than in the case of the thoughts that have achieved, and today enjoy, much political credit, in circles quite respectable.

I am no Social Democrat, yet it seems to me that, under the Soviet government, the Russian revolution became a reasoned experiment towards freedom—novel (it is true) in method and aim, but profoundly interesting and not without hopeful possibilities.

Unfortunately, the Soviet government has never played fair.

Had it been recognized by the allied powers, and we had accredited to it a first-rate mind, there would have been no need for it to call in the sanguinary safeguard of the Red Terror.

Why did not England recognize the Soviet government?

And as a matter of fact England did not object to the Russian revolution.

In England as in Russia, the Czardom was "swept, unlicensed;" in England as in Russia, we praised the Russian revolution, and even when a continuing revolution made Kerensky a Minister—"Kerensky the Red," as he called himself—British plaudits did not cease.

BRITAIN PRAISED KERENSKY

Indeed, Britain paid Kerensky a compliment which was then thought the highest compliment in its power—called him "the Lloyd George of Russia."

Shallow reasons have been put forward in justification of the British government's attitude.

It has been said, for instance, that the Soviet government represented only a section of the Russian people, and came into being by a violent usurpation. No doubt the Soviet government did represent only a section of the Russian people, but an American on the spot writes: "The Bolsheviki were extreme Socialists. They perfected the organization of a central clearing house for these thousands of Soviets. They used this organization to spread their propaganda and won over to their point of view 90 per cent. of the soldiers and 80 per cent. of the peasant masses."

Ninety-five per cent. of the soldiers, 80 per cent of the peasants, these are larger percentages than would have obtained in France for the restoration of the Bourbons after Napoleon's first downfall. I cannot, however, bring myself to spend time over percentages.

England did not refuse to recognize the Soviet government solely because the government was "sectional," she refused also because strong forces in England—commercial, industrial, agrarian, political—felt a kinship to things in Russia which the Soviet government did not represent, and disliked very much indeed that which it did quite effectively represent.

This brings me to the second objection—the Soviet government "came into being by a violent usurpation."

I am inclined to ask, "What if it did?"

But that would miss the real point.

The real point should be sought, in the noun rather than in the adjective—in "usurpation" rather than in "violent."

Dominant powers in England dislike the Soviet revolution because, in the revolution, the "People" acted for themselves; they dislike the spontaneity of freedom.

A regulated freedom, a freedom that will speak and act only through organization which between them they can control, is a very fine thing, and the pillar of the English State.

The Soviet revolution should rather be considered as the removal of an obstruction by the real authority. The first Russian revolution, the revolution which destroyed the Czardom, was the work not of the moderate parties in Russia, but of extreme parties—of the very forces that subsequently established the Soviet Republic. Those forces created the Soviets, and thereby gave to themselves an institutional form—the associated Soviets were the revolution organized.

MEANING OF "REACTIONARY"

Whatever was outside the Soviets was not the real revolution.

Between the fall of the Czardom and the fall of Kerensky, this is what happened in Russia: The organized revolution found itself everywhere hampered and hindered. The first Ministers of New Russia, although part of the revolution, were part of the revolution. Bolsheviki called them reactionary, but this adjective has a meaning peculiar to Russia. From the point of view of the real revolution, or, let us say, from Lenin's point of view, the best that could be said for the new ministers was that they were opportunists whose opportunism was limited, not only by itself, but also by preferences characteristic of the Intelligentsia (the educated elements) and Bourgeoisie. And these ministers continued to use the old administrative machine.

No wonder there was trouble in Russia.

Even the appointment of ministers from the Left—Kerensky and his associates—did not improve matters much.

The remedy, Lenin's remedy, was drastic but very simple, "all power to the Soviets."

Lenin saw that the revolution could succeed only by becoming master in its own house, by making the depositories of its authority the prime executors of its purposes.

Now, the authority of the Russian revolution resided, and (after the first moments) had always resided, in the associated Soviets—Lenin made the associated Soviets the government of revolutionary Russia. From Lenin's point of view this was not usurpation—and fo r that point of view there is much to be said.

WITHHOLDING RECOGNITION

The withholding of recognition tacitly encouraged all those heterogeneous elements in Russia that were adverse to the Soviet Republic. That was bad enough, but British political wisdom could not content itself with tacitly preparing civil war in Russia—it burst into speech.

We were assured that England still had friends in Russia—the friends indicated were in the anti-Soviet camp.

To Be Continued.
